Wicks Is Praised, New GOP Leader Is To Be Named Aug. 6

Former State Senator Arthur H. Wicks, who submitted his resignation yesterday as chairman of the Ulster County Republican Central Committee, today received bi-partisan commendation and other best wishes from a multitude of friends and political associates.

30 Years of Service

Senator Wicks served a distinguished career for 30 years in the 34th Senatorial District before he retired in 1955 as a member of the legislature. Since 1944 he had served as chairman of the Ulster County Republican Committee, being elected to that post to succeed Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth of Port Ewen, who was later elected to the Supreme Court bench.

It was announced last evening by Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, vice-chairman, that a meeting would be held on Tuesday evening at the county court house for the purpose of acting on the resignation of Chairman Wicks and also to take action on election of a successor. Members of the committee will be notified today. Secretary Robert A. Snyder said last evening.

Testimonials Given

Among the testimonials received on the resignation, which came as a distinct surprise to many people, were the following: Sheriff Claude Bell, a former supervisor of the town of Olive, said that he would give Sen. Wicks the "highest commendation." He said he was sorry the Senator was resigning and that he knew "we are going to miss him very much."

Sheriff Bell said he had had the pleasure of working with Senator Wicks for many years and knew he would be "missed very much by the public." He said the Senator "certainly did a lot for Ulster county."

"I hope he will live many years to enjoy his retirement," the sheriff told The Freeman.

Backs Wilson

"The party is very fortunate in having as vice-chairman, Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, who is well-qualified by virtue of experience to succeed Senator Wicks."

District Attorney Howard C. St. John said that Sen. Wicks had been "one of the outstanding leaders of the Republican party in Ulster county for many years" and had done a great deal for the county such as the location of the Thruway on the west bank of the Hudson and "many other achievements."

Deserves Rest

He said that "frankly" he didn't blame the Senator in his decision to retire, that chairmanship of the party was a "tough job and that Sen. Wicks had earned a well-deserved rest." Jonh H. Saxe, president of the State of New York National Bank of which Mr. Wicks is a trustee, said that Senator Wicks would be "missed as chairman," that he had "done a good job," Mr. Saxe said he wishes him the "best of luck in the years ahead."

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, of Woodstock, vice chairman, and prominently mentioned as successor to Senator Wicks said:

Outstanding in State

"I deeply regret the resignation of Senator Wicks as chairman of the Ulster County Re-

$50,000 Parking Fees Estimated

A parking meter total of well over $50,000 by the end of the year is forecast on the basis of returns up to July 31.

A July total of $4,550, reported today by the city treasurer's office, brings the total for the year, to date, to $29,750. The July total was $100 above that of June.

Highest monthly total, to date, was $4,650 collected in April. Lowest was February's $3,650.

Dio Makes Apology on Profanity

NEW YORK (AP)—A few weeks ago in a general sessions courtroom in lower Manhattan a jury listened to wiretapped details of a telephone conversation by Johnny Dio. One of the words they heard was an unprintable obscenity.

When court recessed, Dio, convicted later by the jury, rose from his chair and approached the press table.

Singling out the two women reporters covering the trial, he explained how the obscenity happened to enter his conversation, apologized for it and said he was sorry it had been the ladies' ears.

Display of Grace

It was a typical display of gentleness by this suave of all the big-time racketeers. Johnny Dio wears the veneer of a gallant. Affable, of medium height, he has a dark, virile masculinity to match his grace.

Authorities have estimated that he makes as much as a million dollars a year in the rackets. But he is not ostentatious. Dio lives in a comfortable but not pretentious ranch-type home at Point Lookout, on a spit of land in the Atlantic Ocean off Long Island's south shore and just west of the famed playground of Jones Beach.

Dio has been married to the same woman for 20 years and their teen-aged children, a boy and a girl, attended a parochial school. He is regarded as a family man and a good neighbor to those who live nearby.

Hard as Steel

But underneath this urbane mask is a man hard as steel, ruthless when it comes to shaking down a victim or discouraging an enemy. If he threatens to cut off a man's ears or smash his head, there is the impression that he's capable of doing just that.

Right now in Washington, Dio is the target of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee. The committee has said it intends to call Dio as a witness. It would be a waste of time. Johnny Dio, for all his affability, is not in the habit of exchanging confidences with investigative bodies. He's proven that on more than one occasion.

Dio is currently behind bars. He and two other men were convicted of a $30,000 man shake-down conspiracy against two New York electro-plating firms.

It was at this trial that Dio made his apologies to the ladies of the press.

Convicted July 25

An all-male jury convicted Dio July 25 and he now is in jail awaiting sentencing Sept. 5. He faces up to two years in prison.

On the early morning of April 5, 1956, newspaper labor columnist Victor Riesel was blinded by acid thrown in his face near Lindy's Broadway restaurant.

Acid is a time-honored weapon of terrorism in the garment district where Dio grew up. Consequently, it was no great surprise when four months later he was arrested and accused of masterminding the attack on Riesel. He pleaded innocent.

U. S. Atty. Paul Williams at the time called Dio "one of the masterminds of racketeering in this city."

It was the government's contention that Riesel was attacked to intimidate potential witnesses before a federal grand jury probing labor racketeering.

Dio was to have gone to trial last spring. But witnesses against him were stricken suddenly mute. Without their testimony the government's case was weak.

Bishop Blesses Fund Drive Committee of St. Peter's

The Most Rev. James H. Griffiths, STD, JCD, auxiliary Bishop of the Archdiocese of New York, blessed individually, last evening, 78 committeemen at the ceremonies marking the opening of St. Peter's Church Centenary Campaign Fund for a minimum need of $75,000.

After tracing the early history of St. Peter's parish, Bishop Griffiths congratulated the parishioners for undertaking this appeal for funds which he referred to as being "an act of generosity and a debt of justice to the courage, heroism, ingenuity and resourcefulness of the sturdy immigrants who founded St. Peter's in 1858."

Before introducing and welcoming Bishop Griffiths, the Rev. Joseph D. Ostermann, pastor of St. Peter's, read to the parishioners a telegram received from the Most Rev. Joseph D. Rummel, STD, DD, Archbishop of New Orleans, and the only living former pastor of St. Peter's. Archbishop Rummel's message read—"Warmly do I congratulate you upon the prospect

3 Billion For Roads Next Year Superhighways To Link Big Cities

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today earmarked nearly three billion dollars to be spent on the national highway program in the 12 months starting in mid-1958.

The $2,875,000,000 apportioned to the various states includes two billion dollars to continue work on the 41,000-mile network of limited access superhighways. These interstate highways will link 90 per cent of all cities with a population of 50,000 or more. The program calls for their completion in about 16 years.

Includes Main Routes

The Bureau of Public Roads apportioned $393,750,000 for the federal-aid primary system. This system, in existence for many years, includes almost all main routes used in inter-city travel. Counting in the interstate system, it is 235,000 miles in length.

A total of $262,500,000 was apportioned to the federal-aid secondary system of farm-to-market and feeder roads, some 520,000 miles in length.

Started in 1956

For urban highways that are extensions of primary and secondary systems into cities, the government apportioned $218,750,000.

The current highway program was enacted in 1956. The apportionment for fiscal 1957 was $1,250,000,000 and for fiscal 1958 it was $2,550,000,000. Today's announcement covers fiscal 1959, starting next July 1.

Secretary of Commerce Weeks said the fiscal 1959 apportionment is being announced nearly a year in advance to insure uninterrupted progress in the program.

New York Leads

Seven states were apportioned more than 100 million dollars. New York leads the list with $197,947,856. Texas will receive $167,977,003, California $163,409,763, Pennsylvania $148,236,048, Illinois $132,433,592, Ohio $119,338,559 and Michigan $102,096,687.

The breakdown includes some four million dollars to be spent in Hawaii, 17½ million for the District of Columbia, six million for Puerto Rico and about 12½ million for Alaska.

New York State's breakdown includes $19,086,571 for the primary highway system, $7,729,989 for secondary or feeder roads, $29,262,831 for urban highways and $141,868,465 for the interstate system.

Boy Killed, Father Two Brothers Hurt

SALISBURY, Mass. (AP)—An 11-year-old boy was killed and his father and two brothers injured today when the father lost control of their car and it overturned on the Newburyport Expressway.

William Turnbull Jr. died at Amesbury Hospital shortly after the accident.

The father, William Sr., of Hawthorne, N. Y., was on the danger list at the hospital.

Asian Flu Is Threat 60 Million Doses of Vaccine Planned

WASHINGTON (AP)—This country faces the "very definite probability" of a large outbreak of Asian influenza this fall or winter, Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney says.

But he reported yesterday that production is being rushed on a vaccine to combat the disease. He urged full use of it when it becomes available starting next month.

11,000 Cases So Far

The head of the Public Health Service said there have been about 11,000 cases of the new strain of flu reported in the United States. He added undoubtedly that there has been "widespread seeding of virus throughout the country."

He commented that cold weather seems to trigger flu outbreaks, and said if one comes it likely will be in December, January and February.

Divine Guidance Is Sought by Postal Workers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Postal workers-honor bound not to strike—held prayer meetings throughout the nation yesterday, seeking "divine guidance" for a bill pending in Congress which would raise their pay.

The House of Representatives has passed a bill to add $546 a year to the $4,340 average salary of the nation's 518,000 postal workers. The bill is awaiting action in the Senate.

President Eisenhower strongly opposes the bill in its present form.

Future Weather Outlook

Albany (AP)—Extended weather forecasts for New York state, prepared by the U. S. Weather Bureau, for the period from 7 p. m. today to 7 p. m. Wednesday:

Eastern New York—Scattered showers are likely Saturday night and Sunday, probably again by the middle of the week. Rainfall will be spotty, and the average for the period will be under one-half inch. Warm weather over the weekend will be followed by a cooler trend the first half of next week, with temperatures averaging near or just under the seasonal levels.

Western New York—Changeable weather is indicated, with temperatures averaging near normal. Hot and humid with thundersqualls Saturday, followed by clearing and cooler Sunday, and warming up again Monday, with more thundersqualls likely Tuesday and Wednesday. Around one inch of rain is expected, with heavier amounts locally.

Temperature normals—Normal daytime temperatures for Upstate New York at this time of year range in the upper 70s and low 80s with overnight lows in the upper 50s and low 60s.

July Rain Here Measures 2.61

July's rain, which failed to bring full relief from a long summer drought, measured only 2.61 inches, the city engineer's office reported today.

This was 2.11 inches under the July, 1956 total which was nearer normal for the month.

Most of the rain came late in the month. It was heavy enough to save some crops, but others are still in need of rains of longer duration.

Rainfall, to date, in the year, measured only 16.24 inches. The average for the period is from 30 to 35 inches. The total last year to the end of July was 24.28 inches.

Added to ill effects from the drought were 16 days of temperatures in the 90's, and above. The mercury hit 101 on the 20th and 100 on the 21st. The average temperature for the month was 89 degrees, and the average low was 62.8.

Legion Convention Seems Ready to Vote for Bingo

SYRACUSE (AP)—A resolution urging legalized bingo in the state ran a gauntlet of church criticism today to reach a convention vote of American Legionnaires.

The question of making bingo legal goes before the voters next fall as a proposed constitutional amendment.

Legionnaires, here for the department of New York's 39th annual convention, seemed ready to throw their weight behind the proposal.

Churchman's View

But a spokesman for the State Council of Churches said Legionnaires favoring such a resolution were thinking of easy cash, rather than "the serious moral and ethical factors involved."

Kenneth Roadarmel of Syracuse, general secretary of the Protestant group, said yesterday in a statement circulated among delegates:

Cites Moral Angle

"Has the American Legion come to the point where it is forced to resort to bingo as the only means to support its posts, despite the serious moral and ethical factors involved?"

The Legion is "out to get churchmen on this," Roadarmel contended.

Milk Strike Likely To Kill New Order

Oneonta (AP)—Agriculture Secretary Benson might withdraw the new federal-state milk-marketing order if more than a third of the New York milkshed's dairymen strike, an assemblyman says.

Assemblyman Paul L. Talbot of Burlington Flats said this could be "the worst calamity that could happen" to the $6,000 producers.

The chairman of the Assembly Agriculture Committee spoke at a picnic of the Otsego County unit of the Dairymen's League yesterday, when the order took effect.

Talbot is a vice president of the league, one of the four large cooperatives opposing a strike. Two smaller groups—the Dairy Farmers of America and the Farmers Union—have announced strike plans.

Not in Market Before

The order brought markets in a large part of Upstate New York under federal controls previously in effect only for the New York City area.

Talbot noted that two-thirds of the milkshed's producers had to approve the new order in a referendum before it could become effective. If more than a third of them strike, Talbot declared, the two-thirds support would be lacking and "the secretary of agriculture might have the right to withdraw the order."

Sees 20,000 Striking

Meanwhile, S. Cady Schoonover of Selkirk, vice president of the DFA, predicted that 20,000 farmers would join the strike. This, he said, will halt the flow of milk in New York state.

Schoonover said there would be a strike before Aug. 15. The DFA claims 3,000 members. The Farmers Union, which claims 6,000 has fixed Aug. 14 for a strike.

The groups say the new order will raise producers' income enough.

Increased Investment Required for Farms

BY OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Agriculture Department report on farm costs showed today that farming is fast becoming an occupation requiring substantial capital investments.

The capital investment in 1956 was said to have ranged from $10,000 on average commercial family-operated peanut-cotton farms to $177,000 on sheep ranches in the southwest. These averages compared with $6,000 to $120,000 in the 1947-49 period.

The average capital investment in other types of family-operated farms in 1956 compared with the 1947-49 period, respectively, included: Northeastern dairy farm $30,000 and $21,400; Wisconsin dairy farm $33,700 and $23,300; corn belt hog-dairy farm $43,260 and $32,400; corn belt hog-beef farm $36,310 and $26,000; corn belt cash grain farm $92,100 and $63,100; North Carolina cotton-tobacco farm

He maintained that the Legion had attacked clergymen voicing the anti-bingo stand of the council.

Urges Ethical Consideration

"It would be a sorry pass, indeed," Roadarmel asserted, "if an organization such as the Legion voted to approve a resolution solely on the merits of whether it can bring in some easy cash rather than considering its ethical and moral values."

His statement was not read officially to the convention.

Earl C. Hitchcock of Glens Falls, chairman of the Legion's resolutions committee, said he would recommend to delegates that they endorse the bingo measure.

Up to Public Decision

Voter approval of the amendment next fall would clear the way for legal bingo on a local-option basis. Games could be run only by fraternal, religious and charitable organizations.

The legislature already has adopted statutes to govern conduct of the games. The laws take effect only if the amendment is approved.

Other resolutions on tap for Legion action deal with American trade with Red China, the military status-of-forces agreement and recent U. S. Supreme Court decisions.

Smoke Like Atom Blast Volatile Liquids Make Blaze Spread

Fire, fed by volatile liquids which resulted in several explosions, completely destroyed the Walden Metal Products Co., Wallkill, yesterday afternoon, causing damage estimated at approximately $200,000 and injuries to three firemen and an employee of the firm.

Three fire companies fought the stubborn blaze for more than three hours in the 120 by 140 foot building, which manufactures tubular metal playground equipment.

List of Injured

The injured, all treated by a Wallkill physician, were: C. Edward Richards, president of the Wallkill Fire Department, who suffered an ankle injury; John Wasburn, foreman of the fire company, lacerations of the face; William Bunting, of the Walden Fire Company, ankle injury, and Paul Willis, an employee of the firm, abrasions of the arm.

Assistant Fire Chief Robert G. Richter of the Wallkill department, who said today the cause of the fire is undetermined, reported the blaze broke out about 3 p. m. in or near a paint tank in the factory.

He explained the company, in processing their products, dipped tubular steel into tanks of lacquer, varnish "and other highly volatile liquids."

Flames Spread

Chief Richter said there was "a sudden flash fire" near one of the tanks and flames raced through the structure.

There were 15 employees in the building at the time of the fire, he said, and all escaped safely, except Mr. Willis who was injured.

The building was enveloped completely in flames when the pieces of apparatus from the Wallkill department arrived on the scene, he said.

The normal hazards of the fire were increased by a two-inch natural gas line running into the plant, which fed gas into the flames before it could be turned off, Chief Richter said.

There were explosions, which he described as "moderate," during the course of fighting the fire, he said.

Mushroom Cloud

One observer reported that tremendous clouds of black smoke, which could be seen as far away as Middletown, billowed up into the sky during the fire and gave the effect "of a huge atomic mushroom cloud."

Several tractor-trailers, loaded with company products and parked beside the plant, were driven away safely, it was reported.

It also was reported that an addition to the factory, now under construction, escaped damage.

Three Departments There

The blaze was fought by the Wallkill department, Shawangunk Valley Fire Department, located near Gardiner, and the Walden Fire Department. The Plattkill Fire Department was called to Wallkill to cover.

Chief Richter expressed his appreciation to all the firemen "for a terrific job, and I want to thank some of the members of the Modena Fire Department who arrived on the scene and helped us out."

The Walden department was headed by Chief Stanley Evans and the Shawangunk Valley company by Chief Vincent Edmunds. Chief Richter was in overall charge of the fire-fighting operation.

Lasts Three Hours

He said the three departments battled the blaze for more than three hours, and the Wallkill company returned early last evening to wet down the smoldering buildings.

It was reported the use of water in fighting the fire created "a severe drain" on Wallkill village supply, and the pressure was "down to a minimum."

Appeals on Water

Water Commissioner George Knutsen appealed to village residents, immediately after the fire, to conserve water.

It was reported today, however, that pressure "was about back to normal."

Chief Richter, who estimated damage at approximately $200,000, said today the cause of the fire was undetermined.

Rise in FHA Interest Rates Seen Imminent

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Another increase in FHA home loan interest rates is imminent, congressional sources said today.

They said they expect a boost from 5 to 5½ per cent in the interest rate to be announced soon along with approval of lower down payments and new controls on the amount of discount—or premium—which may be charged borrowers on mortgage loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

No time was mentioned in connection with the rate increase, but reports were current that an announcement might be made before September. Firm loan commitments already made presumably would not be affected. There was no immediate comment from housing officials.

A reduction in FHA down payment requirements for prospective home buyers was authorized and imposition of sharply lower ceilings on discounts were ordered by Congress in new housing legislation signed July 12 by President Eisenhower.

Reports that FHA planned to increase its interest charge were partially confirmed by Rep. Rains D-Ala., chairman of the housing subcommittee of the House. He told a reporter he had been "informed such a study was under way" in the administration in connection with impending reduction of down payment requirements.

"I am afraid they are also going to increase the interest rate," he said.

Such action, if taken, would be certain to bring howls from Congress, where administration monetary policies involving higher government interest rates already have come under attack.

FHA was criticized sharply for increasing the rate from 4½ to 5 per cent last Dec. 1 in an announced move to make FHA loans competitive in a tight money market.

The housing administrator is authorized under law to raise the interest to a maximum of 6 per cent without coming to Congress for approval.

In addition to the current 5 per cent rate, FHA now charges an additional ½ per cent fee for insuring the mortgage loan to bring the cost to borrowers to 5½ per cent.

Paltz Stone House Day To Be Observed Tomorrow

The early historical era of the Huguenots will be revived in New Paltz on Saturday when residents of that village will celebrate the fifth Stone House Day.

Resident, during the annual event, recreate village scenes as they were more than 250 years ago.

New Paltz is one of the old centers of American culture in the United States, and many of its residents, descendants of the original French Huguenot settlers, date their heritage to pre-revolutionary days. New Paltz was settled in 1678 by 12 men and their families who carried all their worldly goods on three ox carts from Old Hurley to New Paltz which is on the east bank of the Wallkill river. They built log cabins, but these were replaced by stone dwellings in about 1700.

Many of these stone houses still stand in almost their original form on Huguenot street, "the oldest main street in America."

Financial and Commercial

New York (AP)—Caution and light trading continued to prevail in the stock market early this afternoon.

Price changes among pivotal issues were very narrow for the most part. It was mainly a mixture of small plus and minus signs. A few key stocks moved beyond the range of a point.

Uncertainty as to the next definite trend of the market was still keeping investors on the sidelines, brokers said. There was nothing in the way of major news to impel prices either way. A vacation mood prevailed on Wall Street.

Volume looked as if it would dip below yesterday's 1,660,000 shares, the lowest in four months.

Nonferrous metals were dampened by word from Defense Mobilizer Gordon Gray that the government will stop buying lead and zinc for the strategic stockpile. International Nickel dropped well over a point following its president's prediction that both the United States and Canada would soon stop nickel stockpiling.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 10 cents to $184.40 with the industrials up 20 cents, the rails down 10 cents and the utilities unchanged.

On the American Stock Exchange turnover became very slow and prices were irregular. Corporate bonds were steady in slow trading.

U. S. government bonds were firm in quiet dealings.

CONSISTENT—Teddy Rij, who Senate investigators said was a former bodyguard of racketeer Johnny Dio, sits in close-mouthed silence in witness chair as committee probing rackets vainly tries to get an answer from him, in Washington (Aug. 1). Within 10 minutes after he took the witness stand, Rij pleaded the Fifth Amendment 14 times and refused to say whether he even knows Dio. (AP Wirephoto)

Consumer Revolt Urged in Milk Case

Syracuse (AP)—A quarter-page advertisement in today's editions of the Syracuse Post-Standard called on "John Q. Public" to begin the use of substitute dairy items as a means of fighting "the latest insult to the public"—the new federal milk marketing order.

Bordered in black, the ad asked "consumer's revolt."

The bold face ad was purchased by a "Fulton group" according to a note in the editorial page of the newspaper.

The ad said the project was sponsored by the "Northern New York State Committee for Preservation of the Public Purse."

It said the rising cost of living "will put us all in the poorhouse" and could be directly attributed to the "ever increasing prices we pay for foodstuffs."

Drag Hudson River For Two Brothers

YONKERS (AP)—Search parties dragged the waters of the Hudson River off Yonkers city pier today for two missing bachelor brothers who were believed to have jumped in to rescue their small dog.

It takes a GIANT to reach across a river

A giant bridge stands as a familiar landmark on the local scene, conveying its traffic to a specific destination. And just as familiar is the daily newspaper, a giant medium continually conveying news and advertising into almost every home in the nation.

More than 57,000,000 newspapers are bought daily, reaching almost every prospective customer in the land. And just as a bridge connects people on opposite shores, so does the daily newspaper link people on opposite sides of business—the buyers and the sellers of goods.

For wholesalers, distributors, retailers and regional manufacturers the newspaper is an indispensable courier. It calls on practically all families in the local market and waits to be read at their convenience.

If you want the fastest way to get your story across, you should be using the daily newspaper. It's the surest bridge between you and the people you want to sell.

All business is local . . . and so are all newspapers.

C of C Reasons For Additional Parking Space

The reasons why additional modern and convenient parking is needed were released today by the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce.

The area network of highways and arterial routes will soon make all parts of Kingston much more accessible and further increase the need for more parking. It was pointed out that the improvement of Route 28 into the central Catskills will soon be completed. Route 32 from Rosendale is being improved and the county is practically finished with the improvement of Lucas avenue extension. The Route 209 extension from the Village of Hurley to the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge is in the planning stage. When completed this by-pass will remove much through traffic from our city streets and make business establishments and offices more readily accessible.

Eleven Reasons

The brochure describing the proposed multi-story parking facility for Kingston contains the following 11 reasons why it is needed:

The city of Kingston and the six area townships have increased over 21% in population in the last seven years. The area will grow still more. Ulster county already has a population of over 108,000.

Motor vehicle registrations increased over 26% in the last five years. There will be more, many more. In 1950 Ulster county had 36,509 motor vehicles registered. By 1960 it could be 55,000.

In a city the size of Kingston the average shopper or client will walk more than five or six hundred feet to shop or transact business. Concentration of business has many advantages if parking is available.

Surplus Important

A surplus of convenient parking is the most important factor today in attracting more customers, clients, patients and shoppers as well as keeping those we have. Free traffic movement, in and out, without congestion and delays, is the next most important factor.

Modernized stores, banks, hotels office and other commercial buildings, and a wide selection of goods and services, attract customers. The best way to protect the investment, increase property values, and justify the cost of modernization is to provide adequate, convenient parking.

In cities less progressive than Kingston it takes a strong shift in business development or a marked drop in property values to get action started. Sometimes they are too late and any actions taken are incapable of stopping movements or trends already well underway. It is not too late for us if we act promptly. The period of grace will soon end.

The opening of the Thruway and the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge extend our potential trading area. If we are to take advantage of the possibilities, we must improve the parking situation, as well as traffic facilities and regulations. Both the Thruway and the bridge make it easier to reach other, more distant places to shop. We must do something to keep people coming this way.

Multi-Story Parking

Flat or open space parking spreads any business district and increases walking distance compared with the number of establishments served. Mechanical, multi-story parking makes much more efficient use of land and serves a concentrated business area much more effectively.

Fringe parking must be made available and should be used by all-day parkers, store owners, employees, professional persons and others not visiting the area as shoppers, customers, clients or patients. We are growing up. We can no longer park in front of the door and still have business expand.

Many of our streets laid out years ago, some actually 299 years ago, are not capable of handling modern traffic, to say nothing of parking. The total cost of providing some of our street parking should make every taxpayer shudder. We should use a larger percentage of some streets to move traffic but provide ample off-street parking.

Cars are not parked in the hot sun during the summer months in a modern, multi-story garage.

Volunteer workers will meet Tuesday morning to make final plans for promoting the private development of the proposed multi-story parking garage. The brochure also contains this statement, "Investment in this project is the same as buying business insurance."

Hen Stops Laying As Test Starts At Farm Station

New Brunswick, N. J. (AP)—There is no joy at Rutgers—Lucy has struck out.

Lucy is, the hen that started the feathered set last week by laying 17 eggs in a five-day period.

Well, you can imagine what happened thereafter.

From an unnamed hen in a flock of several hundred owned by John Delaporte of Reaville, she leaped to fame. She got a name; Delaporte grew proud of her, and the scientific world took over.

The 2-year-old leghorn was brought to the Rutgers University agriculture experiment station Monday for Dr. Paul D. Sturkie, poultry physiologist, to study.

Sturkie wanted to see what made Lucy lay such a wonderful shell game. She had laid three eggs on two days, four on two days and, with Delaporte keeping watch to make certain no prankster was spoofing him, three on the fifth day.

Well, higher education didn't agree with Lucy. And Rutgers officials said yesterday that she hadn't laid a single egg since she arrived. Hadn't even formed an egg, in fact.

WICKS' SERVICE A SHINING EXAMPLE

The news story in Thursday's issue of The Freeman announced the resignation of former Senator Arthur H. Wicks as leader of the Republican Party in Ulster County but it could not show through the lines of the press story the magnificent contribution he made to his people.

Elected chairman in 1944, his was a continuous labor of love to the cause of good government in Ulster county. His eagerness to work long hours for a cause he believed in was in large measure responsible for the success of the party under his leadership.

As a member of the New York State Senate for 30 years, he brought distinction to Ulster County and the 34th Senatorial District, which he represented.

Throughout his chairmanship and his long tenure in the State Senate, the former senator has given unstintingly of his time and energy for the promotion of community betterment. He was one of the busy men who could accumulate even more duties as the work increased. In the hustle and bustle of it all, he always was frank and forthright and never lost his sense of fairness. Kind and sympathetic, he never tired trying to help those in need of encouragement and assistance.

As a member of the New York State Senate and as chairman of the local Republican Party, he long has been acclaimed for his service to all his constituents, regardless of their political faith, race, creed or color. He is said to have helped more young people in their struggle to obtain a college education than any person in the city's history.

The work and influence of Mr. Wicks has placed Kingston and Ulster County on the threshold of a new era of progress and prosperity. A few of his outstanding accomplishments are seen in the elimination of the Broadway crossing, the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge and The Thruway on the west side of the Hudson river.

In the retirement of Arthur H. Wicks as chairman of the Republican Party of Ulster County, residents of Kingston and Ulster County have a shining example of the many unsung sacrifices of time and effort it takes from dedicated men and women in America to make our democracy the best instrument of government in the world.

NASSER SMOKE SCREEN

One essential need of any dictator is an outside enemy bent on destroying the nation he rules. If that enemy, real or imagined, is rich and powerful, so much the better for his purposes. But an enemy he must have, if only to divert his people's thoughts from their own miseries.

During the past year, President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt has shown many of the characteristics of a dictator. Not the least of these has been his occasional statement of variations on that old dictatorial theme, "We are surrounded by the enemy, and we must unite (under my leadership) to repel those who seek to destroy us."

Nasser's latest development of this theme was made in a speech to a huge crowd of Egyptians celebrating the first anniversary of nationalization of the Suez Canal and also the fifth anniversary of King Farouk's exile. The bugaboo Nasser attacked was the United States. This country, he charged, has sought to destroy Egypt by intrigues after Britain and France failed to destroy it by force.

The common people may be influenced by this ancient trick, this charge that "the enemy is intriguing against us." But Nasser himself knows better. He knows, unless his sycophants have closed him off entirely from real information about the outside world, that the United States bears no ill will toward Egypt. He knows that the United States has backed away from his regime because that regime has played footsie with the Soviet Union and has been fomenting anti-Westernism.

Nasser still fancies himself as the leader behind whose banner the Arab world will

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
GRAVEYARD WHISTLING

For some psychological reason, Americans, a most optimistic people like to keep themselves cheerful by ignoring realities. Maybe that is why they live long and their women are so beautiful, but unfortunately in international politics, longevity and beauty do not solve fundamental problems, such as how to get along with the Russians and the Red Chinese.

When Nikita Khrushchev took his first step forward, within a few weeks after Stalin died, it was hardly noticed in this country. What happened was that Stalin's will put Malenkov into the position of Secretary of the Russian Communist Party which is the boss of the government. Khrushchev kicked Malenkov out of that job. That made Khrushchev Number One. It was as clear as could be that if a fellow could do that, he was on his way.

The next step was the trial of Beria who was executed and the elimination of Molotov and Malenkov from the headship of government. This ended the effectiveness of Stalin's will which named the triumvirate of Malenkov, Molotov and Beria to run the country.

Then Bulganin was placed at the head of the government. Bulganin has never been a top man, always a number two. Some men are by nature presidents of companies and some are foremen. Bulganin is the foreman type. So, in the United States we took it for granted that the head of the team was Bulganin and that Khrushchev was only the party boss, forgetting that the Communist Party acts as the dictatorship of the proletariat, which means that whoever bosses the party controls the government. From the day Bulganin became premier, Khrushchev's control was complete.

Then came the XXth Congress at which Khrushchev degraded Stalin, asserted new policies and generally kicked everybody all over the beach. For a while, it looked as though some of the other Russian leaders might stand up to Khrushchev and ask him where he got off bossing them the way he did. None of them stood up. They too had the mark the same as they used to do when Stalin butchered a colleague for frowning at him.

However, in Poland and in Hungary, they did rebel against Khrushchev who had Marshal Zhukov murder the Hungarians with a brutality not often seen in war. Poland accepted a compromise.

Now, Khrushchev has exiled Malenkov, Molotov, Kaganovitch and Shepilov and there is no opposition. Then sings the chorus of official opinion: "Khrushchev could never have done that. It was Zhukov who helped him." Whenever everybody seems to be unanimous about what no one can know for sure, then it is certain that the record was manufactured officially and is being played over and over again for a purpose.

But the purpose is nonsensical whatever it is. The fact that President Eisenhower or any other American prefers Zhukov to Khrushchev can make no difference in Communist Russia except that Zhukov might one day be killed for it. They will insist on running their own show.

Anyhow, as of this moment, the boss is Khrushchev, a heavy-drinking, loud-speaking, brawling peasant with a canny mind and a keen eye. Khrushchev is not an intellectual, nor is he a social philosopher. He is just a party boss who has thus far shown that he can manage his party.

Similarly, our experts have been looking forward to a row between Khrushchev and Mao Tse-tung, between Soviet Russia and Red China. The British believe that such a row is inevitable and will save the world and they premise their policy upon it. It is altogether possible that something like that could happen in a century or so, but it is not in the nature of the Chinese to rush history. At any rate, in his famous statement of last December, Mao justified the Soviet murders in Hungary and used these words:

"The strengthening of the international solidarity of the proletariat will make the imperialist warmongers think twice before embarking upon new adventures. Therefore, despite the fact that the imperialists are still trying to resist the efforts of the Communists, the forces for peace will eventually triumph over the forces of war."

Then Mao says:
"... When the socialist states commit errors of one kind or another, our enemies are elated while some of our comrades and friends become dejected; a number of them even waver in their confidence as to the future of the Communist cause. However, there is little cause for our enemies to rejoice or for our comrades and friends to feel dejected or to waver. The proletariat has begun to rule the state for the first time in history."

Mao remains a prisoner of the Kremlin.

Mental Illness Is Now
A Major Health Problem
By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Mental illness of various sorts is surely one of the most important health problems facing us today. It is not a single problem, but a whole series, because mental disorders are of different origins, different behavior and often require different treatments.

The National Assn. for Mental Health has issued some interesting and up-to-date information on certain aspects of the problem.

It is now thought, for example, that unless the present trend is reversed every 10th child born in 1957 will some day land in a mental hospital. This is twice the number expected to require hospitalization for mental illness 20 years ago.

At this time there are about 750,000 patients in mental institutions and 350,000 more will be admitted or readmitted during the year.

In 1956, 2½ million men, women and children were treated for some form of mental disorder. Children and teen-agers are more prone to mental illness than is commonly understood and about 5,000 are admitted to state mental hospitals each year.

The majority of patients hospitalized for mental illness are in state institutions and these cost the taxpayers more than one billion dollars a year, or about three million dollars each day.

Furthermore, the number of new admissions to mental hospitals will result in the loss of four billion dollars in potential earnings and over two million working years of life.

Mental illness costs industry an estimated 12 billion dollars each year in absenteeism and job accidents.

ONE MENTAL disorder known as schizophrenia is particularly a disease of young adults. This is a true mental disease usually characterized by what is called a split personality, sometimes called dementia praecox.

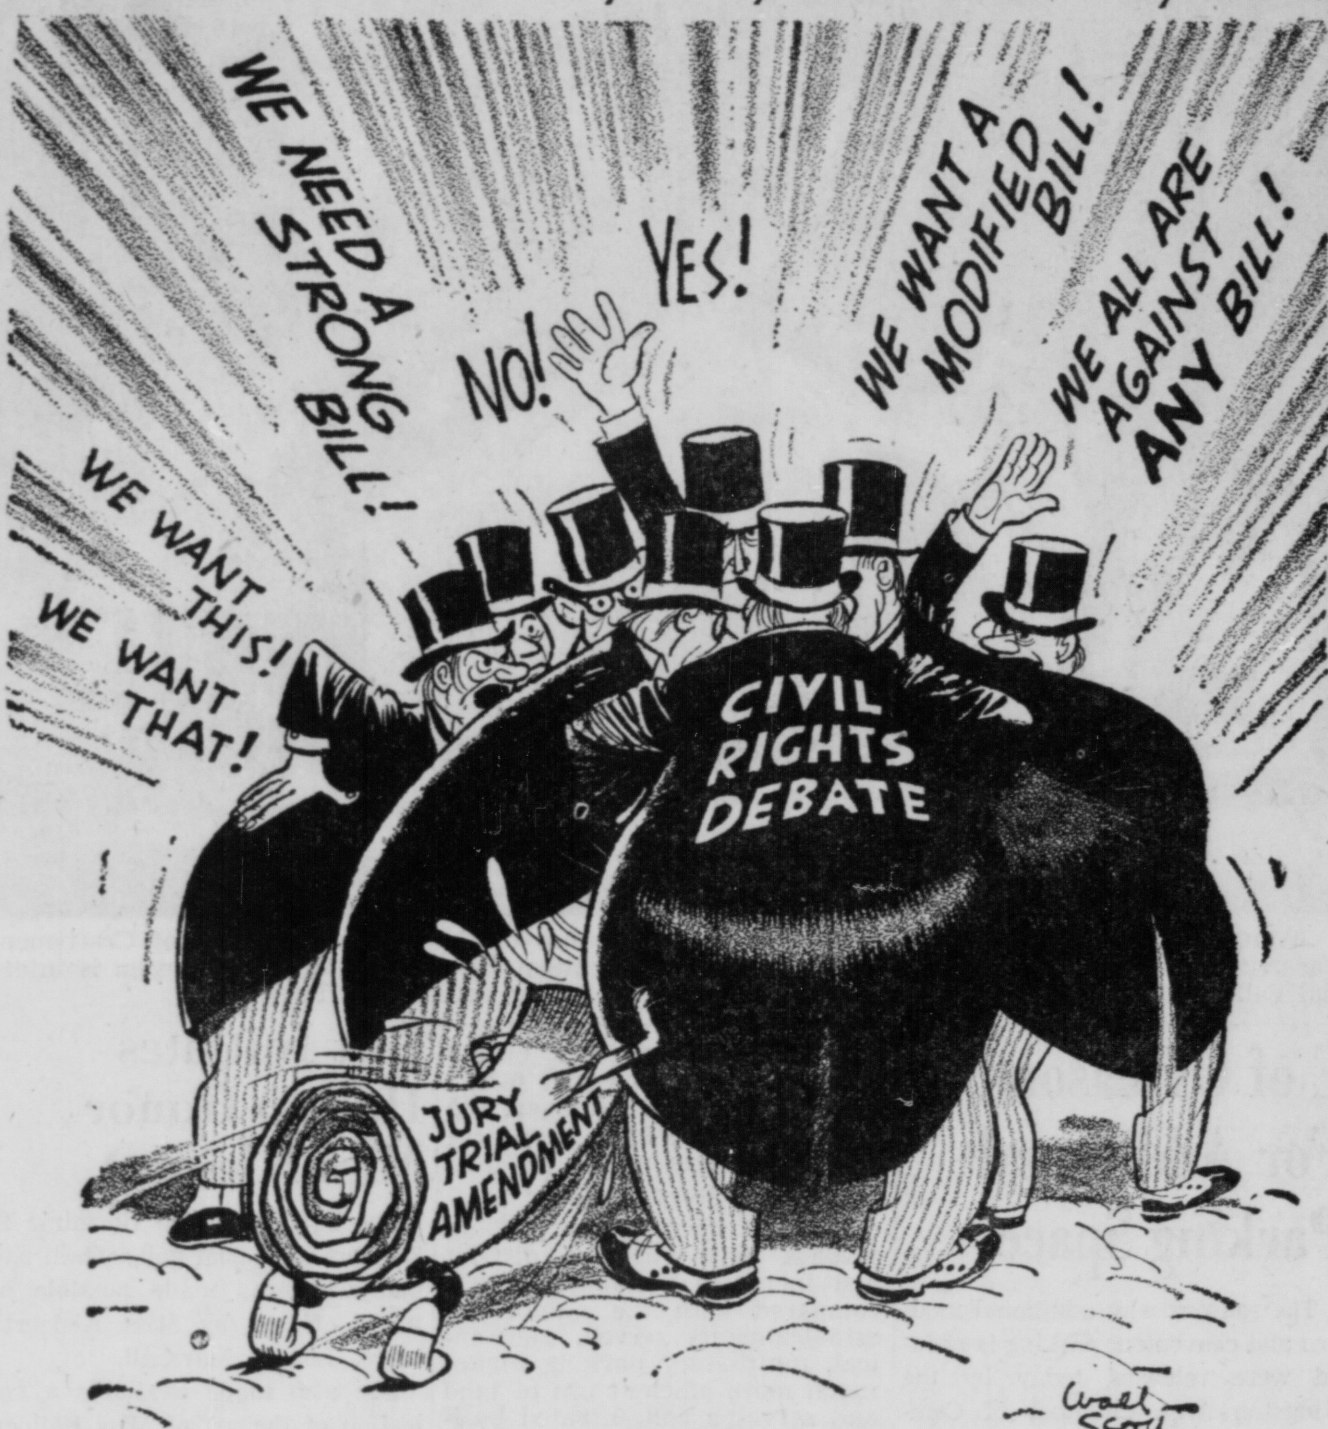

MENTAL ILLNESS is not confined to youth and old age. There is another condition called involutional psychosis, which is particularly common between the ages 48-58 and which has been increasing in frequency.

Curiously enough, this increase in involutional psychosis has been paralleled by a decrease in the frequency of another mental disease known as manic depressive psychosis.

But there is no need to go into the technical aspects of the various mental disorders at this time. Besides these more common varieties there are less frequent ones and, of course, variations in the severity of the symptoms.

Signs of dissension among the various Arab states indicate, however, that there are some bad cracks in the wall of Arab unity. Nasser's attack on the United States is in part a bid to draw Arab attention away from these cracks.

The Sound and the Fury—They Huff and They Puff!

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — A large part of the confusion over this year's national defense budget is attributed to nuclear military policy, according to Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.).

Senator Symington is a former secretary of the Air Force, former chairman of National Security Resources Board and now a member of Government Operations and Armed Service committees.

He was an all-out advocate of predominant air power while he was in the Pentagon. Today he complains that each service wants to be in a position to fight the next war all by itself. And each service makes its decisions unilaterally without reference to the others.

The result is waste. Symington's theory is that 30 per cent of defense costs could be saved if the services would give up their traditional roles.

He maintains that the Air Force has a lot of stuff it doesn't need. We don't have the right kind of Navy.

MARINE CORPS size is fixed by law instead of by strategic needs.

The Army's "modernized" defense based on the Nike is worthless because its range is too short.

These and many other factors lead the senator to the conclusion that the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff should be forced to get together on a new policy.

The coming retirement of Adm. Arthur W. Radford as Chairman of the Joint Chiefs, on Aug. 15, and his succession by Air Force Gen. Nathan F. Twining provide the opportunity.

The background of this situation, according to Senator Symington, is that there has been no major reassessment of armed forces functions since the Key West and Newport huddles of generals and admirals in 1949. The actual record shows this assumption may be misleading and is not quite correct.

In 1953 the Eisenhower administration produced its "new look." From July 15 to Aug. 15, 1953, the Joint Chiefs huddled under President Eisenhower's orders. They were Admirals Radford and Carney, Generals Ridgway and Twining. They delivered their recommendations to Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson.

THESE WERE never spelled out very clearly in any public statement. Wilson discussed the report in general terms at a press conference, but never did get specific.

The impression was given that the Key West and Newport doctrines of 1949 were not changed. But there was a departure from the old "balanced forces" concept. The Navy was given a green light on supercarriers. New emphasis was placed on strategic bombing for the Air Force. The Army was cut way back.

It was an open secret around Washington that Wilson had cut the Joint Chiefs' recommendations enough to cause dissatisfaction to everybody. By and large the "new look" became a great public relations pain in the neck to the Pentagon.

SENATOR SYMINGTON contends that the "new look" was principally logistics and a cut in the military budgets. He has support for this argument in that the first Eisenhower national defense budget, sent to Congress in January 1954 for fiscal year 1955, cut new money requests from 39 to about 35 billion dollars.

The White House Department of Defense and Congress must all share the blame or take the credit for these economies. The dollar sign has obviously forced the Joint Chiefs to alter considerably their planning of military strategy.

But a case can be made that present military policy is an arm of the administration's foreign policy. This will be considered further in this space in the next issue, as it relates to the need for a new, new look at military policy.

Kiwanians Meet 4-H Boys, Girls In Farm Project

The results of an investment in chickens through the sponsorship of 4-H Club boys and girls by members of the Kingston Kiwanis Club, were on display at the regular noon luncheon Thursday.

The program, in charge of member John Walker, featured remarks concerning farming by Edmund Bower, local 4-H Club agent, and the introduction of a number of members of the 4-H Club who were involved in the Kiwanis chicken-raising project.

Records Help Out

Agent Bower's brief remarks concerned the quotation of figures showing the average farmer feeding 11 people in 1923 and 22 people at the present time. The cause for this doubling of production was cited as the keeping of records by the farmer. These records give him an accurate check on his production methods and allow him to rectify any errors which might cause his production to decline. The speaker then drew a comparison between present-day farming records and the teaching of records to the 4-H Club members, as shown by the chicken-raising project.

Interest in this program of Kiwanis has increased, according to H. Van Darrow, president of the local service club. He explained that each year in the spring Kiwanians who care to do so sponsor one or more 4-H Club members in a chicken-raising project. The young farmer then proceeds to raise the chicken and at the end of the season both the chicken and its raiser are "guests" of the sponsor at a noon luncheon.

Circus Results

It was announced at the noon meeting that the Kiwanis Boys and Girls Committee work would receive a financial boost of over $450 as a result of the sponsorship of the circus in Kingston last Monday.

President Van Darrow expressed his appreciation for the efforts of the Kiwanis members in promoting the circus, and pointed out that due to the generosity of local merchants, over 1,000 children had attended the two performances of the circus through the medium of "Circus Daddy Tickets." Children's organizations who were recipients of the special tickets were the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Little League, the Boys Club, the Children's Home, and the West Park Home.

President Called Target Of Smearing by Innuendo

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 2.—It must be the heat or else the political humidity. For one day some one in Congress says President Eisenhower doesn't have "brains," and another day some other member says the President is "a lousy liar." Not long ago another member said he didn't see much difference between Ike and Dave Beck.

All this comes under the head of "free speech," but whether its good manners and courtesy and upholds the dignity of Congress is something else again.

Sniping by Democrats

It is true, of course, that the sniping is being done by the Democrats and that modern politics evidently knows no limits to the smear—it's all supposed to be within the rules of party warfare.

But fortunately the public doesn't regard party zeal as permitting any one to transcend the rules of gentlemanly conduct, especially in governmental affairs—and it may be doubted whether the people back home are proud of those representatives who engage in name-calling. It was the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt who once said that, as soon as name-calling starts, it is evident that the name-caller is devoid of persuasive arguments and has begun to lose the debate.

There is a curious kind of innuendo in all the smears. The attempt lately has been to build in the public mind the impression that the President lacks integrity as well as fidelity to his office. At the press conference this week some one brought up a published story about Mr. Eisenhower having made a million dollars. He laughed this off and said that he would be glad to sell all his estate for that figure any time and would reap a big profit. Actually except for his salary, what money he has today is the result of the proceeds from the book he wrote about his war experiences which was published before he became President.

Press Conference Jibe

Then there was the innuendo at the press conference—repeating a Senator's question in a foreign relations committee hearing—that Mr. Eisenhower appoints Ambassadors primarily because they have contributed to political campaign funds. This, of course, the President indignantly denied.

The fact is that all Presidents get recommendations for appointments, and, as a rule, the one thing nobody ventures to mention to a President is that a political campaign contribution should be rewarded. Undoubtedly among those active in politics there is considerable knowledge about who makes the campaign contributions, and it may influence some of those who send in letters of enthusiastic recommendation to a President. But it would be unrealistic to assume that the Democrats have suddenly become virtuous in this respect and do not intend to let any one hereafter get an Ambassadorial or Cabinet appointment who has made a sizable contribution to their party fund.

The list of nominees who have gone to foreign-service posts under Democratic administration after making notable contributions to Presidential campaigns is very long indeed—to mention only Joe Davies, Joe Kennedy and Perle Mesta. It would be a grave mistake to imply, however, that none of them proved able, for most of them have, and so also have the Republican appointees. Business experience is an asset in diplomacy today.

As for Maxwell H. Gluck, the new ambassador to Ceylon—who, when questioned by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, couldn't remember off-hand how to pronounce the name of the Prime Minister of Ceylon (S. W. R. D. Bandaranaike) or the full name of the Prime Minister of India (Jawaharlal Nehru)—it is doubtful whether any test in pronunciation has ever before been required before approving the nomination of our Ambassadors or ministers to posts abroad.

New Reform?

It could be, of course, that the Democrats are instituting a new reform and that after this they intend to be very meticulous about such things. One would naturally expect the test now to be applied to the chairmanship of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, if not indeed to membership itself on that august group. It might be the new rule that no Senator may qualify who cannot off-hand recite and correctly pronounce the names of all the members of the Politburo in Moscow. Also, it might be urged that nobody can be chairman who can't reel off quickly the names of the secretaries of the treasury of each government to which America has made financial grants in the foreign-aid program of the last ten years.

There are lots of things that could be added to such a quiz. It might be broadened to include some of the reporters who ask the President questions at the press conference. One wonders how many could spell Nehru's first name or give quickly the name of the Prime Minister of Ceylon. Surprising as it may seem, there are things that even the members of the press don't know—but then they are used to ineffectives to describe their shortcomings. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

In reply to the so-called "Labor priests" who wage controversy for unions and their bosses, but never, to my knowledge, put a finger on any crook among general clientele, I beg consent to publish the following:

"Paulist Fathers, 414 West 59th street, New York 19, N. Y. Jan. 25, 1957

"Dear Peg:
"I am still cooped up in a corner of the house after ten months. I was out only once—to Boston for the laying of the cornerstone of the Centre of Park street."

"I do, however, see the papers. When I read of the McClellan (formerly McCarthy?) committee's getting around to racketeering in the unions, I said 'it's a vindication of Pegler.' And when Reuther came out with a demand (1) for an investigation of what you've been exposing for ten or twelve years, I felt that you had triumphed. Give the men of the cloth a little more time—and a little more courage—and they will walk up. It has been my pleasure to direct the attention of some of them to the fact 'Pegler has been calling the shots as he sees them' and that it will be well for certain 'labor priests' to do the same."

"You are paying the penalty of being ahead of the crowd. Our Savior, Himself, said to those who were ganging up on Him, 'You killed all the prophets from Abel to Zacharias, (A to Z, by the way.)'

"There is a scriptural phrase 'the reward of the prophet.' That's it—persecution is vindication. But don't worry; not now that you are winning. Better late than never."

"I am sending you a new book of mine, written before I got sick but published only now. I was delighted to hear that you liked old St. Mary's in S. F. It is my own favorite—after our church here. I did a lot of work out there from 1910 on."

"He kept crying out, like the Old Testament watchman on the ramparts, warning of every approaching danger: the first, fatal recognition of Russia; lend-lease, 'shoot on sight'; 'stab in the back'; Pearl Harbor; Quebec, Yalta, Potsdam—

"Tell the truth; God hath no need of a lie," said St. Ambrose. Father Gillis made those words his guiding principles."

At Christmas 1955, Father Gillis went home to Boston. He called on me and from my hotel window we looked down on the beautiful scene of the Common where, 70 years before, this little tad played third base for the neighborhood scrub. And 'way yonder, back of the Common, vague through the falling snow, his monument, the Paulist Center, which now bears his name, taking shape on Park street."

He told me of his defeat. He warned me that the enemy was too strong. They had killed off Joe McClellan, Martin Dies, Paulist Thomas, J. B. Mathews, Bob Stripling—

"Write your funny stuff," he said. "But drop this fight. You can't win."

Kerhonkson Man Hurt, Cow Killed In Cycle Mishap

A 28-year-old Kerhonkson man was injured seriously early today when his motorcycle killed a cow on Route 29, one mile north of that village.

Delbert F. Lyons suffered a possible fractured skull and lacerations of the legs and arms, Ellenville State Police reported.

Troopers said Mr. Lyons was driving his 1957 motorcycle north on Route 209 around a slight right turn, struck the cow, went off the west side of the highway and overturned in a ditch.

He was treated at the scene by a physician and removed to Veterans' Memorial Hospital, Ellenville, by Humiston Ambulance Service.

His condition at the hospital at noon today was described as "serious."

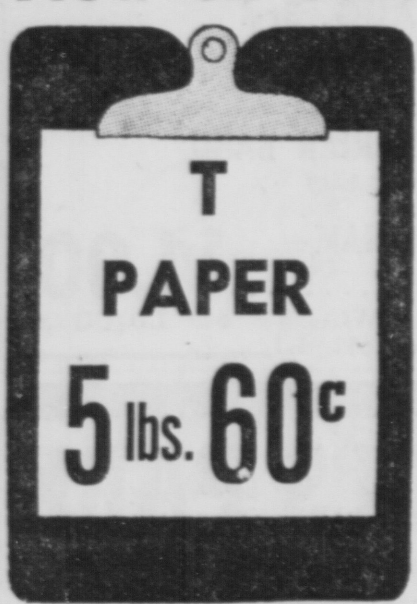

The cow, owned by Philip Davis, of Kerhonkson, walked into a field about 75 yards off the east side of the highway and died, troopers reported.

Wicks Is Praised

leader of the board of supervisors, Supervisor John J. Gaffney of Lloyd said: "I certainly wish to express my best wishes to Senator Wicks and hope for a happy retirement. He has devoted most of his life to public service and the community. I trust the party will be fortunate enough to get a new responsible leader as his successor."

Supreme Court Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth who before being elevated to the Supreme Court bench was Ulster county Republican chairman, in commenting on the resignation of Senator Wicks who succeeded him as county leader, said:

Public Interest His Concern
"Regardless of the disappointment that generally must ensue from the resignation of Senator Wicks as county chairman, no one in fairness can quarrel with him for making that decision in view of his long years of devoted and successful leadership.

"Politics, honestly practiced in the public interest, is an essential science of our democratic system. In carrying on his political activities, the Senator always has demonstrated his mindfulness of that principle and has always placed the public interest ahead of partisan advantage.

"In whatever political problems which have faced him, he has fought for the right as he saw it with picturesque vigor and with unshakable courage.

"I know it is the wish and prayer, not only of those of his own political party, but also of his legion of friends of other political persuasions that he may live and be with us for many more years to enjoy the additional, well-merited leisure which will now be his."

Mayor Frederick H. Stang said:

Will Go Down in History
"I think it is safe to say that when the political history of this county and state is written that the name of Arthur H. Wicks will be listed as a man who contributed greatly to the growth and advancement of good government.

"We in Ulster county know full well what his leadership and intense interest meant. It is evident on all sides.

"It has been my privilege to know and work with Senator Wicks for some 30 years. His first question when consulted on a project or new legislation was, 'Is it good for our people?'

"His active leadership will be greatly missed, but it is assuring to know that he is available for guidance and counsel."

Charles Relyea, supervisor of the Town of Hurley and chairman of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors said:

"Senator Wicks is entitled to quit after so many years of able party service. We have many able men in the party qualified to take over the leader's job. My choice is Ken Wilson, our present vice-chairman. Ken is well liked by all segments of our party and he has what it takes to make a good leader."

Robert A. Snyder, Saugerties, secretary of the Ulster County Republican Central Committee and clerk of the board of supervisors, who has been closely associated with Senator Wicks over a period of years said:

"After over twenty years of association with Senator Wicks, I know what a devoted and dedicated public servant he has been. By his resignation our party has lost the services of a tremendous leader. We are fortunate, however, in that we have in Vice Chairman Ken Wilson, so capable a person to pick up those reins of leadership."

The resignation of Arthur H. Wicks as Republican county leader is a great loss to our party," County Commissioner of Public Welfare Edward E. Murray said.

"It was a privilege to have been, in a small way, associated with him in his capacity as my leader and a good friend for many years. Personally, I am sorry he feels it necessary to retire from an active part in the councils of our party, but I am sure he will always be available as an older statesman, giving his successor the benefit of his years of experience and the wisdom he has gathered."

Supervisor Peter M. Williams of the town of Saugerties and chairman of the Town of Saugerties Republican committee said:

Cites Bridge, Thruway
"The people of Ulster county and the Republican party are losing the services of a conscientious and valuable public servant. His contributions to the progress and welfare of the people of his former senatorial district can never be fully evaluated.

"Senator Wicks' efforts in behalf of the location of the Thruway and the Kingston Rhinecliff bridge will leave a lasting impression on the Hudson valley for all time.

City Chairman N. Le Van Haver called the retirement of Senator Wicks "a real loss" and expressed the hope that his counsel and advice would be available to his successor.

Chairman Haver said:

To Miss Leadership
"The Republican party of Ulster county has sustained a real loss in the retirement of Senator Wicks as its chairman. He has been a splendid leader and has built a strong organization.

During his political career he has accomplished a great deal for Kingston, Ulster county and other counties in this area. As senator from this district for thirty years he sponsored countless measures for projects and improvements for the benefit of the people he represented. His leadership will be sorely missed. We have the senator's assurance that he will be available to counsel and advise his successor. I trust that he will have many years of good health to enjoy a richly deserved and well earned retirement."

Plan to Combine Two World Wide Christian Groups

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—A plan was introduced today to combine two world-wide Christian organizations.

The work of the two bodies are "often identical and require of them a united response," said Dr. Henry P. Van Dusen, president of New York's Union Theological Seminary, in presenting the proposal.

It would join the World Council of Churches, made up of 165 Protestant and Orthodox denominations in 50 countries, with the International Missionary Council, made up of regional mission associations around the globe.

Dr. Van Dusen, also chairman of the IMC, said the two organizations "find it natural and appropriate, indeed inescapable, to think and plan and act together as though the two bodies already were one."

They constitute the two major Protestant - Orthodox federations operating on a world scale.

The IMC was formed in 1921, the World Council in 1948. They already have some joint functions.

The Rev. Dr. Norman Goodall of London, secretary of a joint committee to draw up the merger plans, said:

"We are surely at a stage in the ecumenical movement, to reshape these international structures for the wholeness of the gospel and the full tasks that lie before the church."

The plan was presented to a meeting of the World Council's central committee, its interim government body. If approved, it must go before individual members of both bodies before submission to their world assemblies.

The process would take until 1960 to be complete.

Wilson Talks With Boss on A Successor

WASHINGTON (AP)—Charles E. Wilson has been talking with his boss about a successor in the job of secretary of defense.

But, says the 67-year-old defense chief, no date has been decided yet for his resignation. In office for 4½ years, he already has held the post more than twice as long as any predecessor.

Wilson's comment in a news conference yesterday that he has proffered no firm suggestions about a successor may be related to reports that the administration is finding difficulty in inducing another top business executive to take the comparatively low-paying, criticism-fraught job.

This revived speculation that President Eisenhower and Wilson might turn to come of the present secretariat. Those officials, like Deputy Secretary Donald Quarles and Assistant Secretary Wilfred J. McNeil, veteran comptroller, have severed connections with their former business activities.

Cub Scout Alvin Edwards of 120 North street, a member of Cub Pack 19 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1386 of Kingston, was awarded the Webelos badge at the monthly pack meeting at Lawton Park on Wednesday. The Webelos rank is the highest award in the Cub Scout program. The boys parents participated in the ceremony.

A story of educational trips during the summer by Den 3, the awarding of den service citations by Den 1, and the showing of motion pictures of activities of Pack 19 by S. W. Stopczynski of Lincoln Park Place, were highlights of the pack program.

Den 1, Betty Eighmey den mother, recorded 100 per cent awards for the month. Adult awards included a one-year service star and perfect attendance to Raymond Wells, committeeman, and a three-year service star and perfect attendance pin to James Connelly, den chief with Den 3.

Tuition Goes Up

Worcester, Mass. — Worcester Polytechnic Institute trustees have voted to raise tuition $200 to $1100 a year, effective in the fall of 1958. President Arthur B. Bronwell in making the announcement said that the tuition rise "will help to provide an adequate scale of faculty salaries so the college may attract and maintain a teaching staff consistent with its traditional quality goals." Worcester Tech's enrollment has increased 25 per cent in two years and there are now one thousand students on the campus. During the current year, President Bronwell said that the student will be paying about 65 per cent of the cost of his education, which does not include the cost of any building or major facilities.

20,000 Families Are Singled Out

Canton (AP)—A youth worker says that about 20,000 families in New York City account for 75 per cent of the juvenile delinquency in the city.

The families represent less than one per cent of the city's population, Ralph A. Whelan, executive director of the city youth board, said last night. "The isolation of this relatively small number of families as the major delinquency source," Whelan said, "means that it now should be possible to evolve more concentrated and effective preventive programs."

Mark A. McCloskey, chairman of the State Youth Commission, noted that more than 100 policemen were attending the eighth annual Moran Institute on Delinquency. This "points up the fact that increasingly the police are playing a new and positive role in the prevention of delinquency," McCloskey said.

Found Insane
Albany (AP)—Rafael Bonilla, 40, who slew his girl friend's parents and tried to kill her, has been taken to the Dannemora State Hospital for the Criminal Insane. Bonilla had been scheduled for electrocution next week at Sing Sing, but Gov. Harriman yesterday stayed the execution. He said a panel of psychiatrists had found Bonilla insane.

Attending ROTC
Brian L. Fennelly, son of Mrs. Leo P. Fennelly of 2 Schryver court, is presently attending the Air Force ROTC summer training unit at Ethan Allen Air Force Base. Following graduation at Union College, he will be eligible for appointment as a second lieutenant in the Air Force Reserve.

For Her Art
Nellie Bly, a reporter, once had herself declared insane to gather material for a book. Her experiences on Blackwell's Island furnished material for "Ten Days in a Mad House."

Mt. Marion Park Street Lighting Now in Operation

The 34 street lights illuminating Mt. Marion Park were turned on for the first time Wednesday in the 236 home development.

The newly installed lights technically called incandescent open suburban street lighting luminaires were a project of the Mt. Marion Park Light District. The district was formed June 4 when the Saugerties Town Board approved a petition to form a light district at a special hearing in Plattekill Reformed Church hall.

The tax rate to cover cost of maintenance and service by Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp. is $5.46 per $1,000 assessed valuation. The total assessed valuation for the newly approved light district is $294,845.

How They Voted
Washington (AP)—Only two members of the New York delegation to the House yesterday voted against a bill that would authorize the state to build a power plant at Niagara Falls. The bill was passed and sent to the Senate. The New Yorkers opposed, both Republicans, were Reps. Fino and Gwinn.

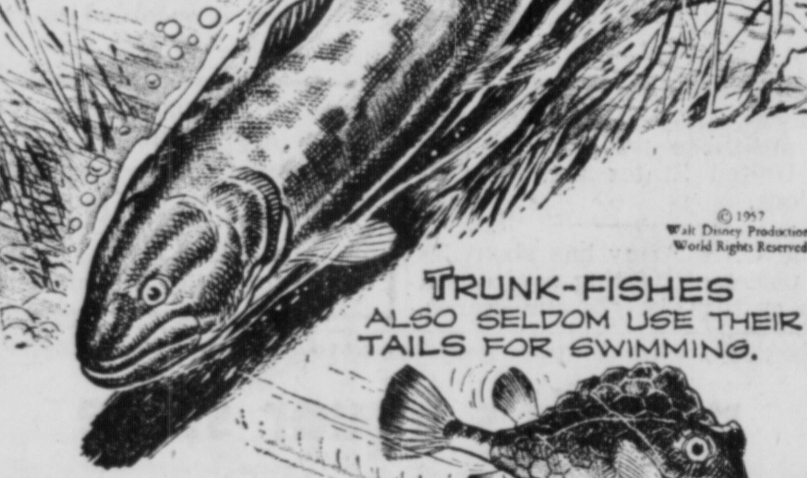

Marcy Gets IBM Post
New York (AP)—International Business Machines Corp. yesterday appointed H. Tyler Marcy to manage its data processing division laboratory at Poughkeepsie. Marcy had been assistant manager of product development in the New York headquarters.

Dies of Injuries
Rochester (AP)—Mrs. Ruth Hahn, 44, of Rochester, died yesterday of injuries suffered in an automobile-truck collision that took her daughter-in-law's life. Mrs. Shirley Hahn, 22, also of Rochester, died in an Ithaca hospital a short time after the accident last May 11 near Candor, Tioga county.

Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON
LET THE FUSE BURN!

If dynamiters put explosives under your house and lighted the fuse, just when can you "constitutionally" cut the fuse and save your home?

When is there "a clear and present danger"? Can you cut the fuse when the sputtering fire is 50 feet away from the dynamite, or do you have to wait until it is only 5 inches away?

Apparently, the latter, according to Chief Justice Earl Warren and a majority on our astonishing Supreme Court.

Now, I'm all for former Justice Holmes' remark that freedom of speech is not only for the thought we like, but for the thought we hate.

Any loyal American should be free to advocate a minority point of view, so long as he would change our laws only as the Constitution permits.

But does any one who is part of the International Communist conspiracy to rule the world, have any right at any time to advocate the overthrow of this Government by force?

If I can read the English language, the Supreme Court says he can as long as the burning fuse is still some distance from the dynamite!

Earl Warren seems to think there is no danger—yet. If so, why are we drafting 3,000,000 men and spending 45 billion $'s for defense?

He says the F.B.I. must open its files to suspected saboteurs and traitors who take the 5th Amendment.

If this is law, I'll take commensate sense instead.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

New York (AP)—The dog days may be taking some of the zip out of the consumer but they aren't taking much out of the steady rise of prices and costs here and there in the economy.

Food, apparel and a multitude of gadgets and services are being pressured upward by the latest increases.

And the shadow of more to come falls across the news columns today.

Count on Fall Pickup

Industrial leaders appear to be counting on a big fall pickup in business activity to make these price increases stick. If the new boom doesn't come along on schedule to put idle industrial facilities to work, some of the latest price hikes may be rescinded.

But the belief in built-in inflation seems to be growing, a self priming spiral of wages and prices which only a balky public could halt.

The threat of higher prices to come at the stores and in the commodity markets lies in these things:

Wholesale Prices Up

Wholesale prices of food have climbed to the highest point since June of 1955 and are now 5 per cent above a year ago. Retail food prices seem sure to make another advance soon in sympathy.

Manufacturers ordering materials for full production will be paying higher prices for steel and aluminum products.

Prices of some other metals that have fallen in recent weeks could be bolstered and rise again as the result of congressional action. Hearings on a proposed hike in the tariff on lead and zinc are under way in Washington with the object of aiding those faltering industries.

Brain Work Sets Contract.

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

East won the opening club lead with the king and looked dummy over very carefully.

The chance that he could find some way to defeat the four-spade contract did not appear too good. If his partner had opened a singleton club things would probably come out all right, but he did not think that South would have bid quite so strongly with three potential club losers. Hence South must have the singleton club and the defense already had its one and only club trick.

If West should hold the queen of diamonds, a lead in that suit might produce two tricks but one more trick would be necessary and that would have to be in trumps.

Now, if West could show up with a trump trick, East saw a better defense that did not depend on the queen of diamonds.

East led his singleton heart right into dummy's strong holding. This couldn't really cost him anything as West was never going to make a heart trick in any instance.

This play cooked declarer's goose. He played the ace and another spade in the vain hope that East would only hold two trumps, but West won the king and gave his partner a heart ruff.

Now East exited with a club and waited patiently for the diamond trick that set the contract.

Legion Calling For Korea Vet Bonus in State

Syracuse (AP)—The State Department of the American Legion Thursday unanimously adopted a resolution calling for the payment of a bonus to armed forces veterans of the Korean conflict.

The convention resolved that the Legislature be petitioned to provide a constitutional amendment for a bonus to Korean vets, "the method of raising said funds and amounts to be paid . . . to be determined by the state Legislature."

Taking a lengthy list of resolutions "piece-meal" the 39th annual departmental convention said "no method of showing appreciation for such Korean service" has yet been demonstrated.

The more controversial resolutions were scheduled to be introduced today.

Among these is a resolution dealing with American trade with Communist China.

SUMMER "STOREKEEPERS"—These bare-chested Bay Shore, Long Island "businessmen" are on deck with a modernized version of the old lemonade stand, dispensing canned coolers instead of the traditional home-mixed ades, and capitalizing on the "sanitary" advantages. Apparently Ss would be happier if she had a double-jointed straw. Despite the modern touches, the temptation to drink up the profits seems as irresistible as ever.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

One of the readers from Port Ewen brought me the following: "For many years Johanas Sleight had a grocery store in the three story brick building on the dock at Sleightsburg, that is now owned by the Ulster Fuel Oil Co."

"They also had a coal shed into which they hoisted coal from boats to the top of the bin using a horse to pull the bucket up so that it could be dumped into a car, in turn, the car could be run on a track and dump the coal in the required bin."

"A steam hoist was installed later to replace the horse. After Mr. Sleight died, the grocery and coal business was carried on by his sons, Richard and Benjamin Sleight. For many years, Mr. William Sleight, Johana's brother, delivered the coal with horses. The coal business was later taken over by Mr. Warren K. Van Vliet who discontinued the use of the storage on the dock and used a coal shed at Port Ewen railroad depot."

"Sixty years ago, this coal business, at the Port Ewen depot was operated by Mr. Charles Vogt, who sold it to the Sleights, who in turn sold it to Mr. Vliet, after his death it was sold to Walter Hutt," my reader explains.

He further writes: "On the east side of the Skillypot Ferry slip there was a building in which the late Chester Thorp ran a meat market for years. Mr. Thorp later was butcher for the late Mr. Ezra V. Hotaling in the building next to the Port Ewen post office. The building referred to by the ferry, was part of the ferry property, and later was moved up the Sleightsburg hill, and was made into a gasoline station, which was operated by the late John Hasbrouck. Hasbrouck was a son of the last owner of the Chain Ferry."

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

New York (AP) — Would you rather be a successful businessman or a movie star?

At 27 Robert Evans, who looks like a boyish Tyrone Power, has decided to try to be both—a career executive in the women's sportswear field and a matinee idol.

"After all, why not live a diversified life?" he asked, leaning back in a beige leather chair in his skyscraper office in Manhattan's teeming garment center. "It makes for a more-rounded person."

A year ago Bob, who is tall, dark and spectacularly handsome, was happy and successful as a partner in Evans-Picone, a multi-million-dollar women's sportswear firm. Then Hollywood beckoned—and it won't let him alone.

Appears in Two Pictures

He has appeared in two films and Darryl Zanuck, gambling on him as a future star, signed him to an exclusive contract. He is the first new talent Zanuck, who manufactured many a celluloid celebrity in the past, has put under contract since leaving Twentieth Century-Fox to become an independent producer.

The possibility of one of its junior magnates replacing Clark Gable has stirred the imagination of clothing industry workers along Seventh Avenue here as nothing since, perhaps, the invention of the elastic brassiere.

Two Lucky Breaks

It all happened—or so the script goes—as the result of two unbelievably lucky breaks.

The first break: Some eight months ago Norma Shearer saw Evans relaxing in the Beverly Hills Hotel swimming pool. Struck by his resemblance to her late husband, producer Irving Thalberg, she asked if he'd like to play the role of Thalberg in "The Man of a Thousand Faces." Evans did.

The second break: A few months later Zanuck saw Evans in a New York night club, had no idea who he was, but tracked him down and asked if he'd like to play the role of the bullfighter in the film adaptation of Ernest Hemingway's novel, "The Sun Also Rises." Evans did.

300 Radio Dates

As a matter of fact, Bob had appeared on more than 300 radio programs as a child actor but a youthful illness forced his retirement. When he recovered a year later, he found theatrical jobs hard to find, so he entered the textile field.

In a few years he and his partners—his older brother, Charles, and designer Joseph Picone—achieved a success that can be termed mildly colossal. Their North Bergen, N. J., factory has 500 employees.

Bob looks on his film future with a sense of happy adventure tempered by caution.

"Frankly, the first two pictures cost me money—considering the time I was away from my job here," he said. "But my partners have been very understanding about my absences."

Bob figures he can make two pictures a year for Zanuck and still be away from his clothing firm office no more than from 12 to 20 weeks during the slack season in ladies' slacks.

Likes Both

"I enjoy the business world and I get a thrill out of acting," he said. "But if I find after a couple of years I haven't made a real dent as a film personality, I'll quit."

"If I can't be important in the field, I'd rather drop it and concentrate on my own business."

"Some people seem to think it odd that a businessman should double as an actor. Why? The training you get in business—meeting and dealing with all kinds of people in the crises of buying and selling—should make you a better performer."

"The average businessman," he grinned, "sees as many roles, and perhaps plays as many, as the ordinary actor."

Name Changed By Accountants

The Mid-Hudson Chapter announces the change in its name from the National Association of Cost Accountants to the National Association of Accountants, effective July 1st. According to Hamilton E. Meharg, president of the local chapter, the change reflects the fact that during the years since 1919 when the association was founded, there has evolved a broadened concept of the accounting function in business management, and the activities and interests of the association and its members have kept pace with these developments. Dropping the word cost from the name does not signify a change in the Association's field of interest but rather represents recognition of the evolutionary changes already taken place and that changes will continue.

Mr. Meharg announces that among other changes approved by referendum of the members is the re-statement of the purpose of the Association as follows: To unite through membership in the Association persons interested in accounting, to provide opportunities for members to increase their knowledge of accounting practices and methods; to develop through research, discussion and exchange of information a better understanding of the nature, purposes and uses of accounting as applied to all types of economic endeavor, and to make this information available to members; and to foster acquaintances and fellowship among members, and provide opportunities for development of their individual abilities.

Sharp Increases Noted in Actions Against Drivers

Albany (AP)—New York State revoked and suspended drivers licenses at a record pace during the first half of 1957.

There were sharp increases in disciplinary actions taken under the point system and those involving speeding.

The Motor Vehicle Bureau reported today that it revoked 9,305 permits between January and June and suspended 147,570. At the same stage in 1956, the record year, the bureau had revoked 8,840 permits and suspended 79,292.

Many of the suspensions so far this year stemmed from the new compulsory insurance law.

Under the point system, a driver may lose his license for a series of minor violations, each of which is assigned a specific number of points.

The bureau revoked 578 licenses and suspended 4,415 under that system in the first six months of the year, compared with 269 revocations and 1,753 suspensions in the corresponding period last year.

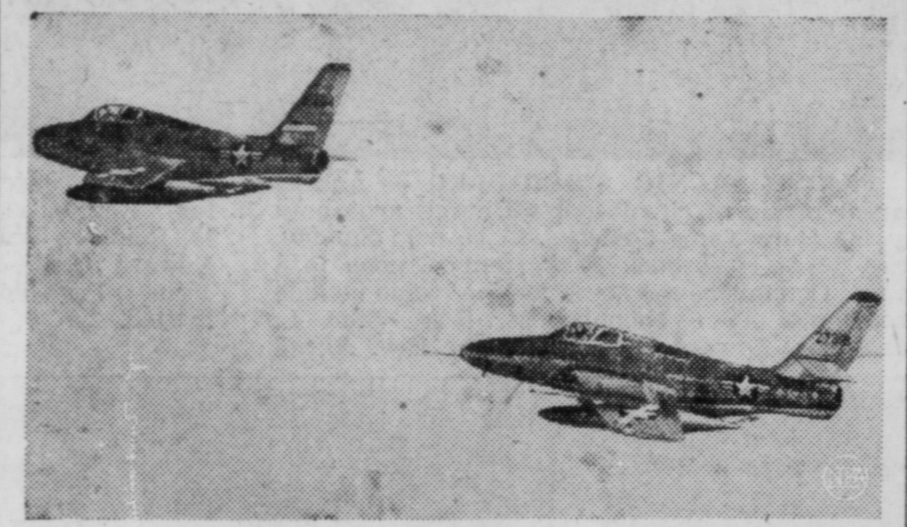

A total of 265 permits were revoked for speeding, compared with 420 in the comparable period last year.

Escape Well

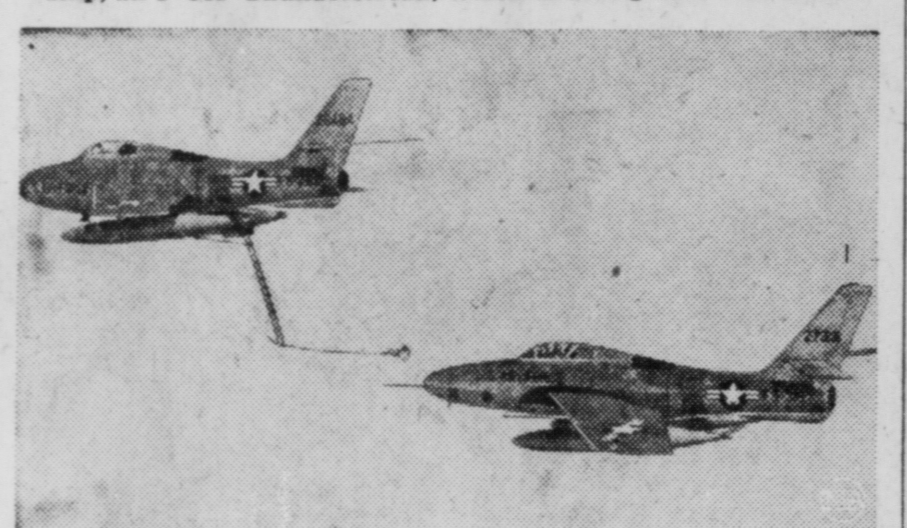

Grand Rapids, Mich. (AP) — A nearby Sparta farmer has solved a problem of a tornado shelter by pumping an old cistern dry and converting it into a safe underground place for tornado weather. Lyle Anderson said the project didn't cost a cent. He pumped the cistern dry with a fruit spray rig and stocked it with drinking water, blankets, tins of food and personal records plus a transistor radio.

450 Gallons, Please ---

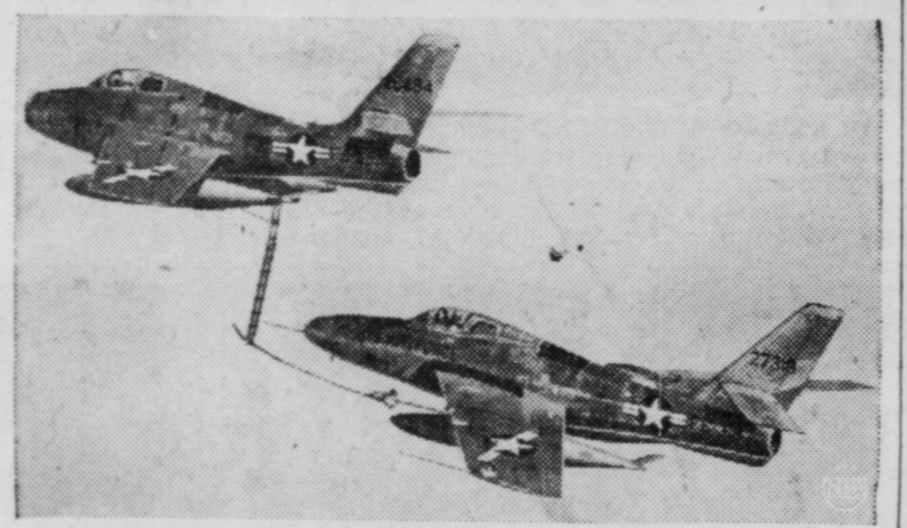

The gas-station-in-the-sky system being used by the U. S. Air Force turns fighters into tankers and back again in a matter of minutes. A plane like the F-84F Thunderstreak, that carries a bomb on one mission, can be a tanker on the next. Designed for faster-than-sound aircraft, the system makes refueling possible at high speeds and at altitudes of up to 30,000 feet. In six to 15 minutes (depending on the amount of gas) the operation is completed and the receiving plane continues on its mission. The low-cost system, said to be able to increase range of fighters "up to 70 per cent" depending on the type of mission, can also be used with slower jets. It was developed for U.S.A.F. by Republic Aviation Corporation.

Thirsty RF-84F Thunderflash (bottom) approaches its sister ship, an F-84F Thunderstreak, which is acting as aerial tanker.

Tanker lowers set of "flying gas pipes" with funnel at end, as the speedy Thunderflash closes in for contact moment.

Contact! Fuel from tanker-fighter (top) is transferred to receiver while both planes hurtle through space at high speed.

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Mass., Aug. 1—Statistics can be used to prove what you want to prove,—or they can be used to show what they do prove. Money is used universally, and its fluctuations must always be considered in all calculations. The problem is to find a stable unit of value. On the basis of a dollar worth 100 cents in 1939, it is now worth 50 cents and is going lower.

The money unit—whether it be a dollar, pound, or franc—has a tendency to become less and less valuable. Money is always a problem to every one, from the paper boy to the President of the United States. The Government has debts even as you and I. As the dollar becomes of less value, so do our savings accounts and life insurance.

The National Debt

Wars are the Government's most expensive cost item. They destroy wealth, take the best youth of the nations, settle nothing, and are supported by borrowed money. This debt must be paid by the youth of the country yet unborn. These Government obligations are known as the National Debt. In 1914, the National Debt was a little over one billion dollars. Today it is around $275 billion and it costs about $9 billion annually to pay the interest on the debt. We have fought wars to end all wars, but the next one may end everything else!

Printing-Press Money

There are many people who think that the National Debt and the money problem could be solved by printing more money. When you stand in the balcony of the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, watch a worker hold up a blank sheet of paper, push it into a machine, pull a lever, hold the sheet of paper up again transformed into $1,000 bills, you can readily see how they get that idea. The end of printing such money may be complete repudiation and catastrophe.

Labor Unions

In 1933, Labor Unions had a membership of around 3 million; today it numbers around 18 million. Since we have a civilian labor force of almost 70 million, this means that less than 30 per cent of the workers are unionized. However, the leaders of this 30 per cent practically set the standards for a large majority of the nation's workers. Some of the union activities are harmful both to the general welfare of the nation and to their own members as well. Labor should get a fair wage but its production should increase in line with its wages. Otherwise, these workers reduce the value of their savings and life insurance.

The Vicious Spiral

The union demand is always for higher wages or shorter hours. Employers are willing to grant increases so long as production is being increased, but otherwise such raises are just like printing-press money and are followed by a rise in the prices of consumer goods. Increased prices are soon met by another demand for an increase in wages, and the spiral goes round and round. The vicious circle continues: Increased wages, increased costs of production, increased prices, then increased wages. This will go on until the consumer ceases to buy and we have unemployment and depression.

Creeping Inflation

This gradual increase in prices lessens by so much the value of the dollar and of your savings deposits and life insurance. This situation is going on at the present time, and unless it is controlled it will cause trouble in time. The Federal Reserve Board is trying to stem creeping inflation with tighter money. We should all encourage the board in its effort to protect the dollar, our savings, and our life insurance. Inflation does not increase the volume of business; it just increases the number of dollars necessary to carry on business.

Conclusion

The administration likes to speak of the gross national product, which is measured in dollars, because it probably makes everybody feel better, but remember that it is measured by a 50-cent dollar rather than by amounts of food, clothing, and shelter.

Lengthy Eclipse

Theoretically, it is possible for the sun to be hidden for as long as seven minutes 40 seconds in a total eclipse. It must occur when the sun is farthest from the earth and when the moon is closest to the earth.

January 1 was not in general use as the first day of the year until 1752.

"It is my wish and prayer," the Rev. Mr. Walser said to those assembled, "that people of all races, and religions could be united in friendship and fellowship as we are here tonight. Although I am happy tonight with this reception, it also makes me sad to think that there are many who cannot enjoy the freedom and privileges we do. By EMILY POST

(Author of Etiquette, Children Are People, etc.)

THE BIRTHDAY CHILD

Dear Mrs. Post: You have said many times in your column that a hostess should not accept a prize in her own house. Will you please tell me if the same rule applies to a young child who is hostess at her party? My daughter went to a birthday party recently and several games were played for which prizes were given. It so happened that the "birthday child" won several prizes, which she kept. When my daughter told me about this I was very much surprised. Don't you think, Mrs. Post, the mother was wrong in allowing her daughter to keep these prizes? I would very much appreciate your opinion on this.

Answer: If there were several prizes she might have been allowed to keep one. But ordinarily the birthday child does not keep any prizes that she wins. The prize is given to the runner up. The theory is to teach the child that a hostess does not keep prizes in her own house. Furthermore, the birthday child has undoubtedly received many presents already.

A Bride's Belated Thanks

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is soon to be married and is leaving immediately for a three-months' honeymoon in Europe. What is the correct thing to do in regard to thank-you notes for wedding presents received too late to be acknowledge before the wedding? Since the wedding is to be a large one, the problem may be quite serious. Can't I, the bride's mother write a note of acknowledgment until such time as the bride returns? The plans for her trip are not generally known.

Answer: Yes, you can very properly write, "Cynthia received your lovely gift but was unable to write her thanks before leaving on her honeymoon trip. She will, of course, do so when she returns in November."

A Gift From a Man

Dear Mrs. Post: I know it is not considered proper for a man to give a woman friend money for a present, but would a gift certificate in the amount of ten dollars from a leading department store be considered in the same light? It would be a very practical gift as she could then buy whatever she wants with it. Will you please give me your opinion of such a present?

Answer: I am sorry, but this gift would really be the same as money.

Should the wife sit in the front seat of the car when friends are invited for a ride? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Leaflet E-15, "Manners in Public," includes the answer to this question. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Marilyn Monroe Loses Her Baby

New York (AP)—Glamorous Marilyn Monroe, wife of playwright Arthur Miller, lost her baby by an operation last night in Doctors Hospital, a medical source reported today.

"The baby was unsavable and it was urgent to protect the life of the mother," said the source who declined use of his name.

The operation followed a fast ambulance trip yesterday from the Millers' summer home at Amagansett on the eastern end of Long Island.

When she was admitted to the hospital one of her doctors said Miss Monroe was expecting her child at the end of March.

The medical source said that "no difficulties" were anticipated as a result of the operation and that Miss Monroe was "doing as well as can be expected."

Arabia has a population of about 10 million.

Coast Guard Has Need for Draft Eligible Grads

Draft-eligible college graduates from ages 21 through 26 are in demand by the United States Coast Guard for its reserve officer program.

Rear Admiral Henry C. Perkins, USCG, commander of the Third Coast Guard District, announced today that openings are available; for officer candidates to attend the October class at the U. S. Coast Guard Academy, New London, Conn.

Upon completion of the 17-week course, the officer candidates will be commissioned ensigns and ordered to three years active duty. Assignments will include such fields as law enforcement, aids to navigation, engineering, port security, or search and rescue.

Rear Admiral Perkins describes this opportunity as a way for college graduates to complete their military obligation as officers in the service which essentially performs peacetime assignments valuable to human life and property.

Prior to acceptance into the Coast Guard as officer candidates, applicants must pass a physical examination and obtain a passing score on an officer qualification test. Selection is then based on the results of an interview and study of the candidate's background.

Further information may be obtained by writing to the Reserve Director, U. S. Coast Guard, U. S. Custom House, New York 4.

Hoffa Confident He'll Get Job, Pushes Combine

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Detroit Teamster chief James R. Hoffa advocates a giant combine of transportation unions—land, sea and air—he said here yesterday.

Hoffa said that he is confident he will be elected Teamsters Union president next month to succeed Dave Beck. If he is, he says he will work for a merger of truck drivers, longshoremen, railroad and steamship employees and warehousemen into a giant transport union within the AFL-CIO framework.

Teamsters Union leaders are meeting here to review the union constitution.

Banks Largest Lenders To State's Farmers

Again in 1956, New York state farmers met the bulk of their credit needs through loans from their local banks, according to Ivan Warren, field representative, Valley National Bank, Wallkill, who represents the New York State Bankers Association as Ulster County Key Banker. During the year, the state's banks remained the leaders in farm credit service by providing far more financial aid to farmers than any other lending agency, he noted.

Using figures from the sixteenth annual farm lending summary of the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association, Mr. Warren pointed out that on January 1, 1957, New York banks had a total of $134,968,000 in loans outstanding to farmers. On the same date, $40,370,000 was held in New York farm loans by Federal Land Banks, second largest lender to the state's farmers; $15,425,000 was held by insurance companies; $28,251,000 by Production Credit Associations; and $14,703,000 by the Farmers Home Administration.

Denver Park Is Named For Mamie Eisenhower

Denver (AP)—Denver had a new park today, named in honor of the First Lady of the land who was the guest of honor at dedication ceremonies under a blazing sun.

Various dignitaries were introduced. But it was Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower, at times on the verge of happy tears, who struck the note that caught the hearts of the crowd.

"I hope in years to come mothers will say to their children," at this point she clasped her white-gloved hands. Now hurry up and run along and play in Mamie Eisenhower's park."

The park is in an area of new homes, young parents and many children.

Waving her hand from the speaker's platform, the smiling First Lady said "This is a wonderful, wonderful honor. All my love to you and my thanks for naming this park for me."

Nekos Truck Located

Local police were notified last night that the panel truck of Stephen Nekos, of Hurley Heights, reported stolen July 30 from Washington avenue, was located in Mahwah, N. J. Nekos, who at first indicated that he thought removal of the truck from where he had left it parked, was a prank, finally reported it as a theft yesterday. Mahwah police telephoned late last night that it had been found.

The collapsible opera hat was invented by Gibus, a Parisian hatter.

Choose Negro Pastor

Nunda (AP)—A Negro clergyman has been chosen by an all-white congregation to be pastor of the Nunda Presbyterian Church. The church's pulp committee announced yesterday the Rev. Dr. Irwin W. Underhill of Philadelphia had accepted the call of the 200 church members. They chose him after he preached in this western New York village July 21. The call is subject to the approval of the Rochester Presbytery.

Wilson Talks About Successor

Washington (AP)—Charles E. Wilson has been talking with his boss about a successor in the job of secretary of defense.

But, says the 67-year-old defense chief, no date has been decided yet for his resignation. In office for 4 1/2 years, he already has held the post more than twice as long as any predecessor.

Wilson's comment in a news conference yesterday that he has proffered no firm suggestions about a successor may be related to reports that the administration is finding difficulty in inducing another top business executive to take the comparatively low-paying, criticism-fraught job.

This revived speculation that President Eisenhower and Wilson might turn to come of the present secretariat. Those officials, like Deputy Secretary Donald Quarles and Assistant Secretary Wilfred J. McNeil, veteran comptroller, have severed connections with their former business activities.

Defense Command To Operate Soon

Washington (AP)—A joint U. S.-Canadian high command soon will be in operation, directing measures for defending North America from possible air attack.

The two countries have been cooperating in air defense efforts for several years. The new joint command is expected to mesh those efforts even more closely.

An announcement yesterday here and in Ottawa said the new headquarters will be located at Colorado Springs, Colo., command post for U. S. air defenses.

Commander of the joint operation will be Gen. Earle E. Partridge, chief of the U. S. Continental Air Defense Command. Named deputy commander was Air Marshall C. Roy Slemmon, chief of staff of the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Child's Lie Doesn't Mean He's Starting Secret Life

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Hugh and his friend Rory were on their way home from Cub Scout meeting. As they were passing a building excavation, some men exploded dynamite. The boys decided to wait and see the next explosion.

Arriving an hour late for supper, Hugh said he'd lost his Scout badge and had spent the two hours looking for it.

But Rory's mother had just telephoned the truth to his parents. Because Hugh's father was frightened by his lie, he became very angry. He feared that he'd lose all the control of Hugh if the boy started making secrets of what he did.

He was so scared he couldn't see the only important thing to see about a lie—the child's belief that we disapprove his desires.

Thus Hugh's lie said to his father, "I am not a boy who could desire to see dynamite exploded. The only desires I have are those I know you approve. So I've spent those two hours virtuously laboring to find my Scout badge instead of watching men blast dynamite."

Unfortunately, Hugh's father didn't register the suspicious belief behind the boy's lie. He attacked the lie—and sent Hugh to bed, though convinced that his father could not tolerate a son who desired to watch explosions.

That we are the enemy of his desires is a dangerous conviction for any child to develop.

So the way to deal with lies is showing ourselves to be the friend of the child's desire.

We say to Hugh, "I'm all for your watching dynamite explode. What we dislike is the way you did it. You kept dinner waiting so that you had to eat it cold. You've worried us so that we're angry instead of being glad you had a good time. If you'd let us know where you were, these things wouldn't have happened. What trouble you've caused by doing a good thing the wrong way."

We can't talk like this to our liar if we're all steamed up with panic that he's beginning a secret life.

So it's pretty important to see that his lie doesn't herald a secret life at all. It's just his way of telling us he thinks we'd hate what he wanted to do.

Giannuzzi Hurls One-Hitter, Fans 16, in City League Game

Pitches Joneses To 10-1 Victory Over Ertel Nine

Nadlers Stop Ulsters 4-1 to Gain 2nd Place

Navy-bound Renni Giannuzzi pitched a 1-hitter and set a seasonal high of 16 strikeouts, as Jones Dairy trounced Ertel Engineering, 10-2, in the nightcap of the City League's two-nighter last night at Dietz Stadium.

In the opening game, Jim Mackey of Nadler Motors twirled a five-hit, 4 to 1, victory over Joe Benjamin and Ulster Electric Supply. The win gave Nadlers undisputed possession of second place with 5 wins and 2 losses.

The lone hit off Giannuzzi was a first-inning single by Bill Chase, the only batter he didn't strike out. Both Ertel runs were unearned and came as the result of a passed ball and throwing error by catcher Nippy Jones in the first inning.

Jackson on Spree
The Dairymen collected 10 blows off Fred Jenny, with Jim Jackson doing the heaviest damage. The Jones second sacker cracked a single, triple and homer and knocked in four runs. Red Hinkley powered a triple and single and Phil Gatti singled and doubled. Jones tripled and Red Gorsline and Sal Misasi hit doubles for the Joneses.

Jackson's homer was a two-run blast up the right centerfield alley in the third inning. Gatti's double and Jones' triple scored a Jones marker in the second. Jackson's triple behind Red Hinkley's single and Gorsline's double produced another pair in the fourth.

League Standing

Team	Won	Lost
Kingston Eagles	5	1
Nadler Motors	5	2
Ulster Electric	4	3
Jones Dairy	3	3
Ertel Engineering	0	6

The Jones victory balanced the defending champions' record at 3 wins and 3 losses, while the hapless Engineers were going down to their sixth straight setback.

Loses 3-Hitter

Benjamin, the Ulster Electric southpaw ace, lost a tough 3-hitter to Mackey but contributed to his own undoing with six walks and three wild pitches.

Mackey, who fanned five and walked four, lost a shutout on an unearned run in the second inning. Les Barringer doubled along the left field line and went to third on Knies' Texas League single to right. DuBois trapped Knies between first and second on an attempted steal but Jim Ferraro dropped the ball permitting Barringer to score. Mackey worked out of bases-loaded jam in the fourth by getting Don McCaig on a tap to the box for the third out. Ulsters got two successive singles with two outs in the sixth but Benjamin skied to left for the third out.

Mackey's long double to left scored a Nadler run in the fifth. A sacrifice fly by Paul Giannuzzi netted a Nadler tally without a hit in the second and Benjamin wild-pitched a run home in the third.

Barringer smashed a single and double for Ulsters and was the only player on either team with more than one hit.

That wasn't all rain accompanying the hailstones a few days ago.

Much of it was the lachrymal residue of the poor folks horse-players who mortgaged the homesteads, robbed the piggy banks and borrowed from friend and foe alike to put their all on "Why Weep" at Belmont.

If you weren't on Why Weep, which couldn't miss, you know, then we ask, Why Weep? But despair not. There is a real "live one" coming up—this Saturday. The man told it to us as the gospel truth.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

If the New York Giants move to Minneapolis instead of Frisco, Harry Grayson, the astute NEA sports editor who services these pages from time to time, will rate as the greatest prophet since your neighbor predicted Floyd Patterson would annihilate Hurricane Jackson within 10 rounds. Grayson, only baseball writer to pick the Philadelphia Phillies Whiz Kids for the National League pennant, broke the Giants-to-Minneapolis story nearly four years ago. It was heatedly denied by all concerned, of course, but Grayson stayed with it. Speaking of the Jackson-Patterson fight, and the memory is still too vivid to forget it, the classic appraisal of the net results came from the typewriter of James Burchard. Quoting Cus D'Amato on the forthcoming "contest" with Pete Rademacher, the Olympic champion, the champion's double-talking manager extolled Rademacher's virtues and said the bout was the salvation of boxing. Observed Mr. Burchard acidly: If that's what the man means, then boxing certainly needs some salvation.

Of Men and Mice:

One of the veterans of darts in the area is a patient at Dale's Sanatorium. Lou Payette, now in his 70s, was one of the original founders of the Sauterites dartball loop more than 35 years ago, is one of the few survivors of the original group. He played with the old Mt. Marion team for about 27 years and when Mt. Marion lost its franchise he joined Ruby. He retired from the Ruby team at the end of the 1955-56 season. . . . Don't worry about Carmen Basilio's chances against Sugar Ray Robinson. The welterweight champion never lost to a middleweight. And he has experienced fighting out of the division. He fought and whipped Pierre Langlois and three fights later the Frenchman fought Bobo Olson for the middleweight crown. . . . For the first time in boxing history, two heavyweight champions—Floyd Patterson and Rocky Marciano—have back-to-back records of one disputed loss in 80 collective fights. . . . Marciano is getting the heat put on him in the form of a $500,000 offer to stage a comeback against Patterson. Strangely enough, a sound business man like Gene Leone, the famed restaurateur, is part of a group doing the brain washing on The Rock.

Murray Olderman's Corner:

Now that the Polo Grounds is on the verge of disuse, visiting teams have found out you can pick off a catcher's signals from their clubhouse windows with a pair of high-powered glasses. . . . Yogi Berra isn't the only soft drink tycoon. Sal Maglie has invested strongly in Johnny Ryan, a lemon concoction emanating from Hometown Niagara Falls and about to burst on the national scene with Sal as the big plugger. . . . It's been a rough off-season for pro footballers, with the Rams' Bud McFadin, 49er Paul Carr and the late Roy Barni of the Redskins all victimized in shooting frays. . . . Between you/nme don't scoff at the intense rivalry of the tennis pros. . . . twice Pancho Gonzales and Frank Sedgman have squared off against each other with fists instead of rackets. . . . Scribbling notes furiously all through Jack Kramer's tennis round robin in the corner of the press tent at Forest Hills was a little olive-skinned man with a walrus mustache. "This guy comes into my office," says Kramer and waves, "Ola, amigo, me no spik English." "Bueno," spied Schroeder, "me no hablo espanol." . . . A rapport established, the handbar gent represented himself as the tennis writer for all the papers in Guyaquil, but even Ecuadorian Pancho Segura couldn't speak his lingo. . . . "Wonderful guy, Ygnacio," enthused Kramer. "If you find out he's a fraud, don't let me know. It'd be like telling me there's no Santa Claus."

Jenny 2, Strikeouts: Giannuzzi 16, Jenny 3. Hits off: Giannuzzi 1 for 2 runs in 7 innings; Jenny 10 for 10 runs in 6. Hit by pitcher: Hinkley (by Jenny). Umpires: Wolf and Pritchard. Score: Mike Fisk.

Colonials, Dutchmen Play Sunday Games

Kingston Colonials and Saugerties Dutchmen are scheduled for Sunday games in the New York-New Jersey League.

The Dutchmen entertain the Brooklyn Windors at Cantine Field at 2:30 p. m., while Manager Fred Davi's Colonials travel to Staatsburg to play the Knickerbockers at 2 p. m. Pitching selections have not been announced.

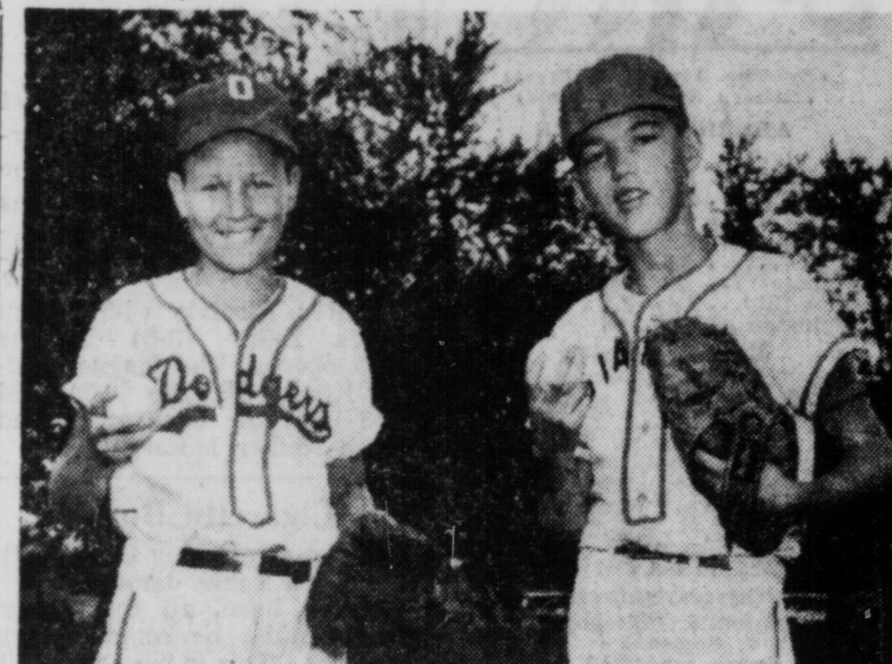

In other N.Y.-N.J. contests Sunday, New York Bulls play at Spring Valley and Nyack visits Beacon.

Ring Career Ends For Courchesne

Springfield, Mass., Aug. 2 (AP)—Lightweight Bobby Courchesne, 22, who underwent brain surgery Monday, is through as a boxer, his manager said.

Pat Bartlett, who said he has a contract with Courchesne that runs to 1970, decided to retire his fighter officially after a talk with the neurosurgeon who performed the operation to remove a blood clot.

The operation ended a six-year career for the young slugger who registered 50 victories in 59 professional bouts. He never was knocked out.

Toronto Threat To IL Contenders

(By The Associated Press)

Now that the Toronto Maple Leafs apparently have recovered their batting eyes, there may be trouble for the front-running Buffalo Bisons and the Richmond Virginians in the International League.

The Leafs, who had dropped five of their six previous games and collected only 14 hits in the last three games, broke loose last night for 13 safe blows as they defeated the Virginians 7-3.

The victory moved the Leafs within three games of Richmond and four of the Bisons, who defeated the Miami Marlins 7-6 in the completion of a July 30 suspended game and then dropped the regularly scheduled game 8-6.

Rochester retained a firm hold on fourth place by blasting the Havana Sugar Kings 13-3 and Montreal moved into a tie for seventh place with Columbus by blanking the Jets 3-0.

Oliver's 66 Sets All-America Pace

Chicago (AP)—Ed Porky Oliver, who hasn't won a tournament for more than a year, was a one stroke leader going into today's second round of the $25,000 All-American Golf Tourney. The 40-year-old Oliver took a six-under-par 66 into the second day doings at cluttered Tam O'Shanter, where a combined men's women's pro-amateur field of 240 is sifting prizes from a four-day fairways circus.

Oliver, whose last triumph was in the 1956 Greenbrier at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., had the pro field nipping his heels.

Bill Casper, a 205-pounder from Bonita, Calif., was a stroke behind at 67, while four players, including Sammy Sneed, were locked for third at 68.

In the Women's Pro Division, Beverly Hanson and Fay Crocker shared the lead with 71, five under feminine par.

Schaefer Swim Leader

Philadelphia, Aug. 2 (AP)—Lou Schaefer, of Cleveland Swim Club, led eight qualifiers for the junior national 200-meter back stroke event as the Senior Men's AAU swimming and diving championships opened yesterday.

Players' Union Gets Approval of Bell, Magnates

Washington (AP)—The National Football League NFL Players' Union, hardly out of infancy, enjoyed unexpected recognition today. But it still faced uncertainties in getting along with pro football management.

Officials of nine clubs voiced approval when NFL commissioner Bert Bell announced yesterday he would recognize and negotiate with the recently created NFL Players Assn.

Spokesmen for three others didn't condemn Bell's action—but neither did they do handshakes as a result of it.

Bell chose a House antitrust subcommittee hearing as the scene of his announcement.

Failure to recognize and bargain collectively with the players organization would be "against the best interest of the National Football League and the public," Bell said.

The subcommittee is investigating football and other professional team sports to determine whether they should be immune from federal antitrust laws. Past refusal of NFL club owners to accept the Players' Association had nettled several lawmakers, including Subcommittee Chairman Celler D-NY, Reps. Keating R-NY and Rodina D-NJ. They commended Bell's decision.

Hawaiian Ready To Face Breen

Philadelphia (AP)—An 18-year-old Hawaiian ukelele player challenges the supremacy of a world record holder today in the 1,500 meter event of the Men's Senior National AAU Swimming and Diving Championships.

Youthful George Onekea of the Hawaii Swim Club, whose 18:58.02 clocking last night led eight qualifiers into tonight's 1,500 meter final, clashes head-on with George Breen, defending champion of the Buffalo Aquatic Club and holder of the world standard for the event, 17:52.9.

Two other championships, the 3-meter diving and the 400 meter individual medley also will be decided today on the second program of the four-day meet at John B. Kelly Pool in Fairmount Park.

Breen won his heat in easy fashion with the second best qualifying time, 19:06.02. The Cortland NY State Teachers product-winner of this event and the 400-meter free-style last year may have been saving his best effort for tonight's mission against Onekea, runner-up at Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, last year.

Other qualifiers included Mike Wolk, Knickerbocker N. Y. Swim Club and Ken Peters, Cortland N. Y. Swim Club.

Knicks by Hickory

New York (NEA)—Raeford Wells signed with the New York Knickerbockers of the National Basketball Association. The leading scorer and rebounder of Lehigh Valley College of Hickory, N. C., stands six feet seven, weighs 243 pounds.

Inflation Handicap

Camden, N. J. (NEA)—With 190 two-year-olds kept in The Garden State, through final eligibility payments, the total value of the richest race this fall now is $219,650, with more to come.

City Loop Sets Twi-Nighter For Saturday

Trying to make up lost ground and fighting the ever-shortening twilight hours, the City Baseball League has scheduled a twi-night double-header Saturday at Dietz Stadium.

Ulster Electric (4-3) plays Jones Dairy (3-3) in the 6:15 opener. The league leading Kingston Eagles (3-1) send Ted Marable against second place Nadler Motors (5-2).

Cigarette Burns

Before attempting to finish the part of a table damaged by a cigarette burn, all the charred residue must be removed from the area. This is best done with a single-edge razor blade. The damaged section then must be cleaned with a cloth dipped in denatured alcohol.

Both lacrosse and tokenon (stick ball), or shinney, were played by American Indians long before coming of the white man.

Boyd Choice Over Vaughn

New York (AP)—Chicago's Bobby Boyd, making the comeback climb in the busy middle-weight division, was favored to stretch his latest victory streak to five tonight at the expense of California Willie Vaughn.

It's their second meeting within three months. Boyd, a hard-hitting 23-year-old, gained a disputed, split decision over Rangy Willie in Chicago. The return 10-rounder will be held at St. Nicholas Arena with the usual Friday night broadcast and telecast NBC, 10 p. m.

Boyd's record is 44-7-2, including 22 kayos. Vaughn, 24, and fighting out of Los Angeles, has a 33-15-4 record, including eight knockouts.

Papers Rap Ike On Gluck Choice

Colombo, Ceylon (AP)—Today's Ceylonese newspaper comment on Max Gluck, President Eisenhower's appointee to be U. S. ambassador to Ceylon:

"Incomparable Max—the man who knew too little," wrote "Daedalus," columnist of the Colombo Daily News.

"Max Gluck's mind is so exquisitely blank and pure on Asian affairs that even the water that senatorial brainwashers pumped into his think tank came back crystal clear and absolutely undiluted by any gray matter," the columnist went on. "If Max were asked the price of sarsaparilla in Boston, Mass., or the per capita consumption of bubble gum in Oaf, Pa., his answers would have undoubtedly come out pat. He has nothing to sell save his ignorance."

Hot, Humid Weather In Most of Country

(By The Associated Press)
Some northern areas got a little cooling but generally hot and humid weather prevailed in most other parts of the country today.

The refreshing breezes moved across the northern plains and headed eastward into parts of the upper Mississippi Valley and southward into sections of the central plains.

Most of the northeastern part of the country also had cooler weather and it was mostly fair and pleasant in the Pacific northwest.

Temperatures climbed to 100 degrees and higher in many parts of the south, midwest and west yesterday. It was 105 at Pierre, S. D., 104 at Bismark, N. D., and the 100-degree marks were the rule as far west as Utah.

Levels Blast At Supreme Court

SYRACUSE (AP)—Robert Morris, chief counsel of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, today leveled a blast at the U. S. Supreme Court for "grievously misunderstanding the nature of the Soviet organization in the United States."

Speaking at the second session of the 39th annual convention of the Department of the New York American Legion, Morris said: "Never before has the standing of internal security, generally, reached the low that prevails today."

"An aggressive majority on the Supreme Court, bypassing judicial precedent, and grievously misunderstanding the nature of the Soviet organization in the United States, has undertaken a campaign to level all existing barriers against Communist penetration," Morris told the delegates. He said the majority "has denied to the states the right to protect themselves against Communist infiltration and infiltration on the theory that Congress has preempted that function for the federal government."

The chief counsel said that "virtually every Communist" the security committee had caused to be convicted "will be liberated in the days ahead as a result of the recent Supreme Court decisions."

Before his address, Morris was presented the department's distinguished service medal. The question of the convention's endorsement of legalized bingo in the state was scheduled for heavy fire from the State Council of Churches.

Helpless Lizard

Most helpless of all lizards is the blind worm, or slow worm, which does not possess any legs and looks like a snake. It is neither blind, slow nor a worm. It has small, bright eyes, equipped with eyelids, and can move very quickly on occasion.

Not So Cold

Although 1,700 miles closer to the North Pole than New York city, Reykjavik, capital of Iceland, has an average January temperature only one degree lower than that of the U. S. metropolis.

Military Rule in Cuba After Demonstration

Havana, (AP)—President Fulgencio Batista's army held Cuba under strict military rule today following an anti-Batista demonstration in the pro-rebel city of Santiago de Cuba.

Comments on the demonstration and the situation in Cuba by Earl E. T. Smith, the new U. S. ambassador, brought a fusillade of criticism from political leaders loyal to the President.

Army Takes Control
Batista's Cabinet suspended constitutional guarantees for 45 days and immediately directed the army to take control of Santiago, capital of Oriente Province and a hotbed of anti-Batista sentiment.

A general strike had been called in the city to protest police action in dispersing Wednesday's demonstration. Most places of business were closed, although the police forced some food stores to reopen. Port operations were halted and banks were shut down.

Streets Deserted

Except for members of the armed forces, Santiago's streets were nearly deserted last night. A cafe near the city that had remained open was hit by gunfire and hand grenades hurled from two automobiles.

Army reinforcements also were reported sent to Buycito, another town in Oriente Province, where a band of rebels was said to have burned an army post.

Censorship again was clamped on local and incoming foreign newspapers and radio stations and on outgoing news dispatches. Stories sent abroad were being delayed as much as six hours.

Says Venezuelan Police Jailed Him

ALBANY (AP)—A public relations man has complained to the U. S. State Department that Venezuelan security police jailed him for one week as a "political prisoner" last month.

George B. Savitsky of Hudson, a former state official now in the public relations field in New York City, contended that Venezuelan police were seeking information on opponents of the Trujillo government in the Dominican Republic.

In a letter to Secretary of State Dulles, Savitsky protested what he described as "the almost incredible mistreatment accorded me by the government of Venezuela."

Savitsky said he was held incommunicado and under armed guard from June 27 to July 4. During that time, he reported, he heard the screams of other prisoners he said were being beaten. Savitsky wrote Dulles that he was picked up by the Venezuelan authorities on arriving in the South American country as a tourist. On his release, Savitsky said, the police put him on a plane for New York.

Newspapers today received copies of Savitsky's complaint. He did not say why he made no complaint earlier.

Savitsky said it was his "earnest belief" that police sought to discover the whereabouts of Nicholas Siifa, an American member of the PRD, the major political organization opposing the Trujillo regime.

Savitsky said Siifa was a "close personal friend of mine" and that Savitsky could be "used as a decoy to lead their agents to him."

Scores Are Injured In Explosion - Subway

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A blast rocked a six-car Broad Street subway train during the morning rush hour today, injuring scores and causing panic in the underground tube.

The three hospitals to which the injured were taken said none had been hurt seriously. Many suffered cuts from smashed subway train windows. Others were treated for shock.

The Philadelphia Transportation Co. said the blast came after the motor of the lead car on the passenger-jammed train short circuited, causing a circuit breaker to explode.
